

The Secret History of the International Court of Justice VII

The third International Court of Justice trial over the suspect

1-D

The following reconstructs the operations of the Secret Society women and Homeland Security CO chief against the suspect and the associated trial in the International Court of Justice from 11 to 21 December, 2015.

A quick note on the suspect's circumstances during the period under consideration. This period continues to be a very difficult time for the suspect mostly because he's not quite able to understand what exactly is at stake in the current conflict: he continues to frequently skip sleep at home for fear that the Secret Society women are getting the police to re-arrest him or hospitalize him when, in reality, the women's focus is on proving to any authority around that their testimonies (i.e. the Homeland Security warning) about him is correct. As for the suspect's writing process, during this period he continues to be fully at work on "The creation of autism...", DOC-1 and his erroneous reconstruction of the Secret Society women's operation back in June last year.

Now such are the essentials for the period under consideration:¹

11.12: 6:40 PM, the suspect talks to W and both the Russians and the CIA obtain evidence that he doesn't intend to help Russia harm the US.

12.12: Homeland Security CO chief obtains counter-evidence that the suspect is conspiring with Russia (the bank account number). 3:43 PM, the Brazilian volunteer reports on the suspect's delusions about his women victims' going after him (as seen on Prison Planet Forum). 4:43 PM, the suspect's conversation with W: Homeland Security's and the Russians' evidence of his insanity. 10:13 PM, the New York City volunteer reports on the suspect's particular brand of misogynist ideology.

13.12: early morning, Homeland Security CO chief instructs W to send to send bullshit to the suspect to mislead him. 8:28 AM, the Boss' family joins in to save Homeland Security. 4:30 PM, the suspect's conversation with W: Homeland Security CO chief and the Russians obtain more evidence that he's insane.

14.12: 2 PM, the money-transfer is complete: Homeland Security CO chief's evidence is complete that the suspect is conspiring with the SVR. But, then, 2:30 PM, the CIA and the SVR both obtain evidence from the suspect's conversation with W that he's not conspiring with Russia (that he knows Homeland Security is accusing Russia of conspiring with him.) Late night, the "Berlin Plagiarizer".

15.12: almost 4 PM, the suspect's conversation with W: evidence of his insanity and non-insanity, but again evidence that he doesn't intend to conspire with Russia with his interest in the European far-right parties. The Homeland Security warning is dismissed in the ICJ and the previous ICJ trial is at risk of being reactivated again.

16.12: 6 PM, Homeland Security CO chief remotely controls the suspect to produce evidence (during the suspect's conversation with W) that he's delusional and does intend to conspire with Russia (EKT) despite his desire to contribute to an American cause. The Homeland Security warning is revived in the ICJ and the previous ICJ trial locked up again.

17.12: with the revival of the ICJ trial, the Secret Society women begin mobilizing volunteers to report the suspect to the special Homeland Security department to revive the Homeland Security warning. Homeland Security CO chief also sends in a Russian woman to pretend to be a Russian agent in order to lure the suspect to talk to her and thus obtain evidence of his conspiracy with Russia.

18.12: while the Secret Society women's volunteers make false reports about the suspect's website to both the special Homeland Security department and the relevant European authority in order to verify for them that the Homeland Security warning about the suspect, especially his plagiarism, is correct, Mr Homeland Security CO chief has obtained two evidences demonstrating that the suspect does intend to conspire with Russia: (a) his contact with a "Russian agent" and (b) his shouting of anti-American slogans.

19.12: Homeland Security CO chief obtains a ton of evidence today, from both the volunteers' reports to the special Homeland Security department and from the suspect's conversation with W, to verify that his profile of the suspect is correct and that his claim about the suspect's "Russia conspiracy" is true.

20.12: Homeland Security CO chief obtains more evidences today: a second evidence of the suspect's concrete connections with Russian agents; the suspect's new post on AVFM which is another evidence of the suspect's desire to help Russia harm the US plus more evidence of his insanity; the suspect's conversation with W which is evidence again that the suspect is indeed insane and that KRN's psychoanalysis of the suspect is indeed correct. Meanwhile, Homeland Security CO chief has finally found a law enforcement authority who is willing to take on the Secret Society women's case on the basis of the Homeland Security warning in question.

21.12: although the Secret Society women are euphoric now that they have a new detective to complain to, as soon as they start mobilizing volunteers to report on the suspect's website, they run into the problem that the suspect has changed his domain name. (The search engines have not yet indexed the new domain.) And so the women gang, after 7 PM, simply turn their attention to the suspect's new links on World Affairs Board. Three or four volunteers have thus made their testimonies certifying that the essays are full of plagiarism and racist and sexist contents. Then, 1:30 AM, SDW gets the LB Admin to make a special report about the suspect's harassment of her.

11 December (Friday; W)

First, the suspect. He wakes up 9 AM and has breakfast at McDonald's. Then he's at home to MST. But he can't come, and so wants to do it again. Thus he misses the 11:30 AM bus. MST the second time, and this time he comes. (Japanese.) He leaves home, 12:30 PM. When he arrives in downtown, he first goes to the barber shop, to get a haircut. Then, he is going to Starbucks, Westwood. While on the bus, he works on "Russian-supported..." (Just what Homeland Security CO chief wants him to do.)

Soon, the suspect is in Starbucks, Westwood. He checks his log, eats, and then W calls back: "IMPstrbkwstwdWes_12_11_15_608PM.MP3" (from 38:15 onward). Here are the details. (1) The suspect notes that he has more crazy things to say. (2) His new hypothesis about how the previous ICJ trial's judgment really works: only a few important people (the conspirators in France) are "chipped" and they are required to do certain things to cause certain reactions from the rest of the people, the totality of which reactions would then add up to the state of affair ordained by the ICJ judgment.² (3) Did the Russians once not want to reactivate the (previous) ICJ trial? Because some Americans are their co-victims? Maybe they should just let the FN come to power by themselves. But then they must have decided to reactivate it in any case. But the Americans shall have a chance to influence the FN too. (All bullshit: just the opposite of reality, if anything: it's the CIA which wants to reactivate the previous ICJ trial! Thus, evidence for the Russians and Homeland Security that the suspect is indeed delusional.) (4) What has happened: the French came, and there was a conflict between the TMU's profile of the suspect and Homeland Security's (until 48:30). The suspect has got the whole thing only vaguely correct here. (Not quite evidence of his delusional mind.) (5) Could the "Marine essay" have stirred up any controversy? How good is it, really? The critique of America therein would have no meaning for the French except maybe as an anti-American propaganda tool. (Nobody actually gives a damn about the suspect's ideas except for the Invisible Hand.) (6) W mentions Donald Trump! Perhaps Donald Trump said those offensive things only in order to influence the FN toward a more favorable perception of Americans. Only if there is an ideologue in the FN who is looking for an anti-American propagandist. The suspect notes that Homeland Security would charge the FN ideologue with "conspiracy" with him if the ideologue should ever want to use his ideas: "It's a violation of the spirit of the laws if you want to make use of the ideas of the target whom we are trying to protect you from... this would seem to explain many of the strange things that are happening... Homeland Security seems to be trying to produce evidence showing me conspiring with the FN..." (Important evidence for the Russians and the CIA, even though the suspect isn't quite right.) (7) The suspect notes his motive for writing "The American response": he looks more and more like that profile of someone getting radicalized on the Internet. Although he's trying to brainstorm ways in which the US can establish a dialogue with the European far right parties, it really doesn't look pro-American in the end. And he notes: "Maybe the Russians and the French have then said to the US: You can't use his ideas, it would be 'conspiracy' too." Again, this is evidence for the Russians and the CIA. (8) The cause for the United States' conflict with the European far right parties: free trade. Excellent analysis! Then: "Maybe BOL is really involved. It looks more like BOL's program". (And there is honking on 55:30). Perhaps! (9) The suspect then confesses what he has figured out yesterday: his ideas on Russia's development of soft-power were prefaced with crazy-sounding comments ("I'm remotely controlled to imagine myself making an address to the ultra-nationalists...") which then became an excuse for EKT to file stalking claims against him, and yet the ideas themselves were ingenious. It thus looks like he was pretending to be crazy in order to pass onto her suggestions which she could then use to rebuild her nation. Thus, he was suspected of fraud with EKT back in October 2014. The suspect has now repeated the CIA's argument! Evidence in favor of the CIA that he's not really delusional! "Hence, all my ideas are banned, per Homeland Security's trick (bad profile)." Now the suspect is only sort of correct here. (But in a different way: Homeland Security has caused the suspect's ideas to be banned by arguing that they constitute his conspiracy with the Russians.) But if all the agencies just ignore the suspect, his ideas will simply be ignored, although not banned. W: The best way to get a person's ideas to circulate widely is to call him "crazy" and then ban them.³ But the suspect disputes this: somehow Homeland Security can label him "crazy" and really ban his ideas in any case. (The suspect: "I have a suspicion that I'm completely banned... no entities are allowed to implement my ideas... maybe except for the US...") (10) The suspect predicts: the FN will come to power, but their anti-Americanism will be considerably toned down – "because the US will have established a lot of influence over them, and that might be evidence that the ICJ judgment is in progress" (1:05:30). More evidence against Homeland Security CO chief's case in the ICJ!⁴ (11) The suspect laments that W doesn't understand the "crazy things" he says and then notes that his "delusions" are so complex that a professor, or a specialized professor, or a special upper-division course, are required in order for people to understand them.⁵ Like John Nash. The "Nash Equilibrium". The suspect confesses that he is doing to his best friend what John Nash has done to his friends. (The example.) W goes on about numbers. W: "People don't study it because there is no pay-off." How the Straussians were looking for patterns (esoteric messages) in famous texts. W goes on about the downside of the method "having a conclusion and then figuring out how to get there." The suspect: "My problem is that I have constructed 'delusions' using real people, and that these people are going to complain." True! Then he affirms that he might be accidentally correct sometimes: "If you bullshit all the way through, 50 percent of it might turn out to be correct anyway." (12) The suspect's job in this society is to be crazy, and if he is found not to be crazy, people will get angry (1:19:30). Quite true! W: This is the "functional theory": even thieves and crooks perform functions indispensable to the functioning of a society.⁶ It all depends on the goal which a society has set for itself. Indeed, if a society is striving to become a "security state", criminals perform the indispensable catalytic function by providing this society with justifications for expanding its security apparatus. The suspect: there are some people who have no functions in society other than slowing down other people's function. He is specifically referring to the Secret Society women, who waste everybody's time, foremost his own. This function is not valid unless society has decided that it is moving too fast with its objectives – when it has set for itself the goal of wasting itself away. (Slowing down other people's progress is of course also the function of Homeland Security.) (13) The congruence between the suspect and ANG: both are fond of a certain image of the suspect as mentally retarded. But ANG wants him to be dangerous as well.

3 Unfortunately, we have to wonder whether this might precisely be the method which the Invisible Hand would employ later on to promote the suspect's politically incorrect theories: a very sad fate that no authors will want to go through.

4 Not to mention that something like this might precisely happen later on.

5 W: "You mean like 'Lawrence-101'?" The suspect: "Everyone knows that Lawrence is crazy, but not how he is crazy."

6 Note that the suspect emphasizes that there are bad people who aren't needed at all.

ANG and her gang-members, if they can't exterminate him, *will make a TV show out of him.*⁷ Kinda cool. ANG is the only person who likes his Nicaragua video diaries.⁸ W then mentions the Albany video in which the suspect cries in front of W's home. (14) The suspect mentions how he has had to remove a lot of videos from his Youtube channel (including one of his conversations with W). (15) The suspect mentions how the replacement of evidence has started again because what's going on in real life keeps matching the happenings in the recordings he's reviewing at the moment. (Again, a wrong scenario, hence evidence that he's delusional, although the Invisible Hand will make this "delusion" come true later on.) (16) The suspect's wish for BOL to be involved, for she will defend him with her authority when he says what is true and yet anti-American. (17) There might be a plan for the US to import the FN's agenda, and it will have support at the grass-root level (although the elites, forever pro-free trade, will not like it). Again, a wrong scenario, hence evidence that the suspect is delusional. (18) Tomorrow is the second round in France. (19) Of all the rightwing parties, the FN is the only one with a consistent philosophy: the others just repeat simple slogans. BOL must really like the FN. (20) W's chapter in some sort of book and recent work in the Assembly (matching students with Assembly members). (21) Many pretty women to stare at in Starbucks. Would that be a good episode in the Secret Society women's TV show of him? (Evidence that the suspect is indeed delusional?) (22) How the suspect has lost his scanner in his storage. (23) W assures the suspect he doesn't record conversations to post them online.

This conversation is really very bad news for Homeland Security CO chief for it's really the Russians' and the CIA's definitive evidence that the suspect doesn't intend to conspire with Russia and their allies: (6) is evidence that the suspect is even aware that Homeland Security is accusing Russia of conspiracy with him (although he has incorrectly grasped the mechanism); (7) is evidence that he doesn't even want to harm the US; (9) is evidence that he has even grasped the CIA's argument; and (10) is evidence that the suspect clearly doesn't want to help the FN harm the US at all. Right after Homeland Security CO chief has used the suspect's new essay "Far right" to establish the suspect's intent to help Russia's allies harm the US – suddenly this. Homeland Security CO chief will have to respond massively in the coming days in order to continue his case against Russia and the FN. Meanwhile, since the suspect has many wrong scenarios, the CIA and the Russians will have to debate whether he is really delusional.

After the conversation, the suspect returns to work. He finishes "American Suffering Woman" and uploads it to his website. While this essay seems to confirm the Homeland Security's profile of him as a misogynist, it seems to exonerate the Russians and the French again for, in it, the suspect speaks about wanting to sell the idea to any party who is willing to purchase it – be it the Russians, the European far right parties, or the Republicans. This is evidence again that the suspect is not trying to conspire with any foreign power whatsoever to harm the US, but is simply looking for opportunities for himself. (It thus seems to be good evidence for the Russian side.) The suspect then goes home, 8:30 PM, having given up the idea of passing the night in Westwood due to the cold.

7 And of course ANG's gang will, with Homeland Security's help, eventually both try to exterminate him and make a TV show out of him (2021 – 2022).

8 W mistakes the video the suspect has once showed him in which he slaps himself for one of the Nicaragua videos.

Then, while on bus 20 going back to downtown, the suspect is very turned on by the woman wearing stockings sitting next to him. Home, MST: the so-called "txxn model". It's not clear whether Homeland Security's false profile of him still includes "pexxxxxxxx".

This volunteer is from Rutgers, the State University of New Jersey. Plagiarism.

To summarize: the Secret Society women continue to concentrate on reporting the suspect for plagiarism, with one exception: the Portugal volunteer's report about the suspect's harassment of Anja on 1:46 AM. Meanwhile, Homeland Security CO chief is in trouble: from the suspect's conversation with W today both the CIA and the Russians have obtained evidence that he doesn't intend to help Russia harm the US at all.

12 December (Saturday)

First, the suspect. He leaves home, 10:50 AM. He comes to the storage facility. He's somewhat upset because there is no longer Wi-fi in the food mall. He's desperate to make changes in "Suffering Woman" in order to avoid misunderstanding. At the storage, he puts in DVD-498. And he counts his discs. When he comes back to the food mall, he runs into Angela. He greets her happily, unaware that Angela has been recruited by Homeland Security as an informant against him and has believed wholeheartedly the lies that he suffers from paranoid schizophrenia and that the group of women in question has never gone after him using law enforcement. Then, suddenly, W calls the suspect wanting to borrow money from him.⁹ The suspect immediately

9 In: "IMPstrgangelawesSartre_12_12_15_1105AM.MP3": on the bus. The suspect is on the phone with Angela. He will meet her on 2:30 PM. 22:00, off the bus, and onto the next bus. 52:40, off the bus. On Metro. 1:22:00, off Metro. 1:40:30, in the food mall. 1:49:30, W calls. He needs 357 dollars to pay a bill, due on the 15th, but he only gets paid on the 16th. He has already asked several others, but no. The suspect: "It's not a Homeland Security operation, is it, to impoverish me?" 2:04:15, somebody who looks Homeland Security. 2:16:00, inside suspects this to be a Homeland Security operation, and he is half-correct: because evidences have been found last night that the suspect has no intention to help the Russians and the FN harm the US, Homeland Security CO chief has now had to respond. In particular, by forging evidence again that the suspect is receiving payments from the SVR for his clandestine work in the US.¹⁰

Then, the suspect is at Casbah. Ren is working there. He has now made the necessary changes to “Suffering Woman” in order to avoid misunderstanding. (He eliminates his “secret message” for his European audience.) 4:43 PM, the suspect calls W back (from 5:37:00 onward). (1) The suspect talks about his limited funds and wonders again whether this is a Homeland Security trick (to impoverish him first and then make something happen). W wants the suspect’s bank account number. (Of course: Homeland Security CO chief is gonna use faulty surveillance to confuse it into something else.) (2) The suspect is now worried about the crazy things he said last night. He confesses his (wrong) hypothesis about the enforcement of the (previous) ICJ trial’s judgment: that it would be the DGSE chief who is going to provide the US with a chance to influence the FN, but that the suspect will have a different explanation (that the DGSE chief has only done so because he is forced to and has been chipped) and thus look crazy.¹¹ “Looking crazy is dangerous, you might end up in the hospital and never come out again.” (3) W mentions a certain crazy professor who has really good anti-government ideas.¹² The suspect: that’s double dangerous! Then he emphasizes that he likes to look crazy while producing world-saving ideas, but both are dangerous. Then he discusses Jean-Paul Sartre: because he was so famous, the French authority couldn’t do anything to him when he caused problems during the Algerian War; and yet in the end he does more good to France than harm.¹³ Snowden is in a similar league (even though he will be arrested when he comes out of Russia). This is again evidence that the suspect might not have intended to harm the US when posting “The American response”. (4) Just by saying he’s afraid, the suspect is again making himself look delusional, and that’s dangerous too. W: how academics can get away with saying subversive things. (5) W mentions a colleague whom the department has fired calling him “crazy” because of what he wrote. That’s how to get rid of somebody: call him “crazy” as a way to make oneself feel good about oneself and look as if one were the “protector”. W seems almost to be describing the Secret Society women (as the suspect notes): harming under the guise of helping. In sum, while Homeland Security CO

the storage. 3:13:00, while in the restroom in the food mall, the suspect reads something in German. 3:27:00, he talks to Angela briefly on the phone. 3:29:00, he’s with Angela. Angela instructs the seamstress as to how to fix the pants for the suspect and then leaves. The seamstress tells the suspect to come back in 30 minutes. 3:59:00, when the pants are ready, the suspect calls Angela again. 4:01:00, with Angela briefly. 4:09:10, the suspect leaves the food mall. 4:23:40, on Metro. Then on the bus. 4:53:00, off the bus. 4:54:40, the suspect runs into Tony. 4:58:00, in Casbah. 5:17:30, the suspect has a short chat with Ren when ordering his drink. 5:36:00, a very ugly guy who looks Homeland Security. And the suspect calls W.

10 In the original version, the conclusion is: “... the Russians have, in front of the judge computer, called into question the evidence which Homeland Security has submitted on 26 November to prove that the suspect has received payment from the Russians. Homeland Security, you recall, has used ‘protecting women victims’ confidentiality’ as a pretext under which to censor out the names and other vital information from the intercept of the transaction and then intentionally misinterpreted the NCFM’s bank account as the suspect’s.” It’s not clear today how much of this is correct.

11 While this is bullshit at the moment – the Russians’ evidence that the suspect is indeed delusional – will anything like this come true later on?

12 Is W saying this because the Invisible Hand has some such plan in mind? Hopefully not.

13 W mentions “anti-Vichy France” and the underground magazine Combat.

chief is about to obtain his evidence, more evidence has surfaced suggesting that he has no case against Russia.

Soon two Homeland Security-looking guys come in to sit next to the suspect.¹⁴ 6:42 PM, the suspect posts on AVFM. (“All his postings are going viral”.)¹⁵ The suspect leaves Casbah, 8:30 PM. Ren gives the suspect a can of drink. (Ren is presumably unrelated to the current operation on the suspect.) The suspect is home past 10 PM. By late night, he has decided that there is no TV show to influence the FN. There is but a dispute in some courthouse with Homeland Security over their false profile of him. Right! Then, 12:06 AM, he posts a reply on AVFM:

If I’m paranoid, then I have nothing to worry about, then I don’t have to move.

If I should move, then I have something to worry about, then I’m not paranoid.

So there is a contradiction here, it seems.

But I have already said it, I have no money to move away. Everything costs money.¹⁶

But, 12:57 AM, Beour3rd replies the suspect: “No contradiction. Move!” Is he still carrying out Homeland Security’s instruction to lure the suspect to skip his trial?

Now the Secret Society women’s operation on the suspect’s website for today. 4:41 AM, dhcp182129.uni-regensburg.de, Universität Regensburg. Regensburg, Germany, 14 In the original version, at this point: “Homeland Security CO chief needs more instances where the suspect mistakes ugly people for Homeland Security surveillance agents in order to obtain more evidence confirming that his false profile of the suspect as suffering from paranoid schizophrenia is correct.” We are really not sure about such an interpretation: given the circumstances, the sort of evidence which Homeland Security CO chief urgently needs at the moment is the suspect’s conspiracy with the Russians, not his insanity. Perhaps these two guys are really just Homeland Security surveillance agents.

15 The suspect’s post in entirety: “I’m getting worried. My log clearly indicates that my old postings on Internet forums are going viral all suddenly lately. It’s unavoidable to conclude that more and more people from around the world are suddenly noticing that there is this guy who is completely insane posting everywhere saying a group of women are going after him, and are helping the women track down all his other crazy posts everywhere on the Internet. A huge rumor has probably started online around the group of women about how insane this guy is. Presumably, the goal of the operation is to put me in the mental hospital eventually, but I just don’t see how all this discovery that I’m insane can possibly lead to forced hospitalization, even though this is clearly what the group of women would like to happen. Should I worry? Or are they just trying to discredit me to as many people as possible? Maybe getting some government agency to broadcast an alert about me warning everybody that I’m insane?” Again, mostly wrong, and what is correct is marked in red.

16 In the original version, at this point: “This posting by the suspect will be used by the TMU/ CIA to counter Homeland Security in the ICJ: the suspect only looks insane. His paranoia displays a rational structure which means that the evidences for his paranoid schizophrenia are really proofs of his wrong inferences.” Perhaps we were correct here.

6:10 PM, the suspect emails W his bank account number. Then he writes further:

Wes, another thing: my log clearly indicates that my old postings on Internet forums are going viral all suddenly lately. It's unavoidable to conclude that a whole group of people from around the world are suddenly noticing that there is this guy who is completely insane posting everywhere saying a group of women are going after him, and are helping the women track down all his other crazy posts everywhere on the Internet. They have discovered, chiefly, that this guy is so insane that he believes there is a chip implanted in his brain. Presumably, the goal of the operation is to put me in the mental hospital, so that our [KRN], the leader of the women, can come out and say to me: "Lawrence, you have so much talent, but you suffer incurable schizophrenic paranoia, believing that we are going after you. Let us help you, please!" But I just don't see how all this discovery that I'm insane can possibly lead to forced hospitalization, even though this is clearly what the group of women wants. Should I worry? Or are they just trying to discredit me to as many people as possible? Maybe getting Homeland Security to broadcast an alert about me warning everybody that I'm insane?

Don't show this email to anybody, okay?

The suspect doesn't understand that his scenario is not correct: the Secret Society women's objective is not to put him in the hospital but to prove that their profile of him is correct (while Homeland Security CO chief's goal is to use him to convict Russia and thereby establish a name for himself in the national security Establishment). Thus, this email is the Russians' evidence that the suspect is indeed paranoid (even though Homeland Security CO chief is looking for something more important). Now wait for W's response – that will be important.

I'm getting worried. My log clearly indicates that my old postings on Internet forums are going viral all suddenly lately. It's unavoidable to conclude that more and more people from around the world are suddenly noticing that there is this guy who is completely insane posting everywhere saying a group of women are going after him, and are helping the women track down all his other crazy posts everywhere on the Internet. A huge rumor has probably started online around the group of women about how insane this guy is. Presumably, the goal of the operation is to put me in the mental hospital eventually, but I just don't see how all this discovery that I'm insane can possibly lead to forced hospitalization, even though this is clearly what the group of women would like to happen. Should I worry? Or are they just trying to discredit me to as many people as possible? Maybe getting some government agency to broadcast an alert about me warning everybody that I'm insane?

Note that AVFM did not switch to UK Time tonight.

Now, let's summarize. Homeland Security CO chief is saving his case today by forging evidence to show that the suspect did receive payments from the Russian intelligence SVR. As for the operation on the suspect's website: again, beside the vast number of visits to report the suspect for plagiarism, only two are noteworthy: (a) the Brazilian volunteer on 3:43 PM to report on the suspect's delusions about his women victims' going after him (as seen on Prison Planet Forum); and (b) the New York City volunteer on 10:13 PM to report on the suspect's particular brand of misogynist ideology. However, ANG's midnight chat with volunteers about her "naked picture" and the Ottawa volunteer on 2:58 AM (although only here to report the suspect for plagiarism) are especially interesting.

13 December (Sunday; W)

First, the suspect. Leaving home on 9:30 AM, he's at St. Sophia from 11 AM onward. He meets up with Stephanie, Angela, and Johanna. He chats randomly with Angela and Johanna. After church, Angela drops off the suspect, at Normandie and Wilshire.¹⁷ The suspect checks the news, 17 In: "IMPstosphiastbrkwtwdWesFN_12_13_15_1109AM.MP3": 20:30, in service. 1:03:00, with Stephanie. The suspect's job training. 1:09:50, with Johanna. She's currently reading The Brothers Karamazov and the Bible. Tomorrow she'll become a US citizen. Her German citizenship will be forfeited. She knows how to write "1" and so on in Chinese. How "this" tends to become "is". Evolution vs. Creation. The Nazis and UFOs. 1:50:00, what Buddha said – about what? What is Johanna saying now? The first writings found in Babylonia? The same complaints about the younger generation as heard today! 1:56:30, more Chinese pronunciation with Johanna. Then the suspect mentions this German girl in Taiwan. 1:58:00, Dan shows up. He says he's a secret agent! 2:04:30, Dominique. 2:06:00, Angela – black guy and white girl, and what her husband said. (He doesn't like Germans.) And what he thinks of Asian girls. And who said he hates white men? 2:10:30, the suspect, walking with Johanna, jokes with Dan: he's Aristotle and Dan is Plato. His reflections on American conservatism. The new German word he has learned: Gleichstellungspolitik. Germans who speak like American liberals! 2:12:20, the suspect bids them goodbye and comes back to Angela. 2:16:00, Angela is talking to a man. 2:23:00, about her daughters. ("Everybody is in the military.") 2:24:10, the man is gone. Angela's tall German husband, a photo journalist. The second husband, German-Indian. (A laboratory technician.) The third, "Rekei" (?), a Navy Seal. The fourth, a mistake. The current Polish guy is the fifth. Angela met the Polish man in Barnes & Noble and he accidentally spilled coffee on her. Originally she wanted him for one of her daughters. He was doing PhD in economics at UCLA at the time. The non-crazy daughter is the eldest, and the crazy one the second one.

and is stunned by the FN's complete loss in the second round. His mood is dampened, for he wrongly thinks this means that the ICJ trial will continue for a long time to come while everything will seem as if nothing had never happened. (The ICJ trial will indeed continue for a long time to come, but this is not because of anything to do with the FN.) He then searches for more information about NULND.¹⁸ Then, the suspect rides the bus to Westwood. He stays in Starbucks. Then, he talks to W on the phone. Then he works in Starbucks until 8:30 PM. He goes home in sadness. A Brazilian girl talks to him in Vermont station.¹⁹

Such are the details of the suspect's conversation with W today (from 5:24:20 onward). (1) Why did W need the routing number? (Because Homeland Security CO chief wants to forge evidence to frame the suspect – dummy!) (2) The FN has completely lost. Because of greater voter-turnout. Who has played the trick? Either the established French parties or the Americans. (Wrong scenario: evidence that the suspect is indeed delusional.) (3) The suspect is somewhat correct: the French and the Russians on the one hand and Homeland Security on the other have gone to court to argue whether Homeland Security's profile of him as "crazy" is correct. Has that anything to do with this (the FN)? (4) The suspect asks: Has he been in a TV show? Everybody is much nicer to him lately. And his finger is hurting. (Again, the suspect has mistakenly made something out of nothing – and Homeland Security CO chief is trying to encourage that by sending him signals because this is evidence that he's delusional.) (5) Is Donald Trump trying to influence the French election with his offensive statements? (Not – evidence that the suspect is indeed delusional.) (6) The most probable US response to the FN and so on: simply strengthen the traditional parties. (Right.) (7) Is the previous ICJ trial simply abandoned? Maybe the Russians do want to reactivate it, but they now want to get rid of this "sharing of the victim status with the Americans". (What bullshit – the exact opposite of reality!) The FN's loss is a "crime" in order for them to win the 2017 election through an ICJ judgment.²⁰ (8) The suspect is worried about his writing when it comes to the ICJ trial: as long as all this continues, he will never get anywhere with his story. Before anybody reads it, it's already suppressed (5:32:50).²¹ (Right!) (9) The suspect talks about NULND. Could she have made the suspect or SDW into a TV show to broadcast in France in order to influence the election? Complete nonsense: evidence that the suspect indeed keeps on developing delusions about the famous women he's obsessed

2:34:10, the suspect is off Angela's car on Normandie/ Wilshire. 2:42:10, siren. 2:46:20, in Starbucks. Soon the suspect is on the bus going to Westwood. There seems to be a Homeland Security surveillance agent on the bus. Starbucks, Westwood.

18 Presumably, since Homeland Security CO chief has already had his evidence, none of this is necessary anymore.

19 In: "strbkwstwdhmnews_12_13_15_733PM.MP3": in Starbucks. 51:30, the suspect leaves. 52:30, siren. 58:00, in Subway. 1:13:00, on the bus. 1:46:40, off the bus at Vermont/ Wilshire. 1:54:20, the Brazilian girl starts talking to the suspect. Which trains go where. She's from Sao Paulo and this is only her third night. She needs to go to Union Station and take the Gold Line to go to Little Tokyo. (Is she meeting a friend in a restaurant?) Presumably this is not a Homeland Security operation and Homeland Security CO chief didn't obtain evidence of the suspect's contact with a Russian agent. 2:04:00, on the train. Union Station. 2:19:00, siren. 2:24:00, on the bus. (Reviewed until 2:26:00.)

20 As shall be seen, something like this technique the CIA will indeed employ later on once they shall have reactivated the previous ICJ trial. For now, it's just evidence of the suspect's delusional mind.

21 In the original version, this comment at this point: "Once again, while the suspect is talking about the previous ICJ trial, another current ICJ trial is going on. Anybody new to this current trial will be utterly confused." Not quite: most participants in the current trial are quite aware of the existence of the previous trial.

with.²² (10) The suspect requests that, if he be made a bad example of, it be totally bad. Wow! (11) What about his writings about the ICJ trial? The German Lady has found somebody in Germany (the “Berlin plagiarizer”) to copy his work several times already. Especially in view of W’s email today. (More on this below.) (12) But the suspect doesn’t think NULND is going to make a bad example of him. (Although she hates Russia, Jewish women usually like Asians.) Nonsense. (13) Should the suspect forget about his writings about the ICJ trial? W suggests the suspect not worry about it. (14) The suspect keeps on overestimating people. People don’t want to get along and they don’t have a functional brain. W: the existence of a tribe requires an enemy. (15) Finally, the suspect and W have a discussion about why certain US bureaucrats can never live without going after Russia. W: “They have made a career out of there being always an evil enemy to the US.” Again, the suspect raises the most essential question: what happens when you shall have destroyed your enemy? W: find a new one. The suspect: but someday you’ll run out! W: you’ll make things up! (16) Then W mentions Trump’s remarks about immigrants and Muslims (“because people are people-oriented”) and Richard Hofstadter’s “Paranoid Style in American Politics”.²³ Overall, while the conversation on the 11th (and maybe even the 12th) is the CIA’s evidence, today’s conversation is evidence for both Homeland Security and the Russians – that the suspect really is delusional.

The suspect's computer-hacking.

Again – computer-hacking.

7:54 AM, W emails the suspect his routing number and account number. He also asks for the suspect's routing number. Again, Homeland Security CO chief is here obtaining evidence that the suspect is indeed receiving payments from the Russian intelligence service SVR. Now since the rest of W's email is very interesting, let's analyze it:

As far as your concerns about being accused of insanity. I have no Idea how this works. Three things that you already know:

- 1) I think local officials must commit you, not state and federal officials. So it really does not matter that your site has gone viral. It will neither add or detract from their ability to have you committed.
- 2) You have already been officially diagnosed as competent by two psychologists appointed by a judge, isn't that worth something?

3) You can only be committed if you present a danger to yourself or others. It is one thing to be called crazy and quite another to say that you are dangerous. Since you have no record of attempted suicide or assault, there is little ground to say you are dangerous.

While you might think that W is just going along with the suspect's wrong scenarios – since he must know that the current debate about the suspect isn't about whether he should be hospitalized – this bullshit will turn out to be a good advice when we shall come to revise this chapter on 01.09.2022! Now, let's continue:

In addition, I do not think people around the world really care about your mental health. To them [KRN] looks a bit paranoid, and perhaps crazy. A paranoid schizophrenic [KRN] can be paranoid about another being a schizophrenic.

Again, while this is nonsense at the time, it might become a description of reality by the time we shall come to revise this section on 02.09.2022!²⁴ W continues:

As far as how your site has gone viral, there is much research on contagion. Most argue that there are few but powerful carriers that once a disease, idea, belief, lie, crosses their path, they spread it rapidly. Airplane pilots, journalists, professors at prestigious universities, and popular websites are all powerful carriers. Marketing experts, political consultants, propagandists, and the CDC are all interested in contagion. One explanation to why your site went viral is simply it passed the path of a powerful carrier, perhaps there is a link to your site.

Again, what W is saying makes no sense at the moment, but it will make a lot of sense by the time we shall come to rewrite this chapter in August and September 2022.²⁵ W continues:

I read a lot of papers and these days students do 99% of their research on Google. I have noticed that the exact bad ideas show up in their papers from the same sites time and time again and from year to year. Often these sites are high school senior projects that are completely wrong. The teachers probably do not know basic Pol Sci 101 to detect the mistakes (or maybe they do).

24 In the original version, our interpretation at this point is: "Is W giving hints about the current condition reigning in the Secret Society's online group? That many volunteers, as the TMU's moles inside the Secret Society, were able to see the true side of the Secret Society women while pretending to go along with the operation?" Again, this will become very much true by the time we shall come to revise this chapter in August and September, 2022.

25 In the original version, our interpretation at this point is: "Is W giving out hint that the suspect's writings are now being considered by many bureaucrats in the US, Europe, and Russia because of Homeland Security's stunt and the current ICJ trial? More likely, however, it is just somebody in the Secret Society, like Dr P or SDW, who has instructed W to try to deceive the suspect into the impression that the sudden increase of visits to his website since late 2013 is not due to the Secret Society's operations but to somebody (a contagion) who has 'discovered' the suspect." Again, by 2022, many bureaucrats in the US, Europe, Russia, and China are indeed considering the suspect's ideas (which by then are a lot more developed than in December 2015) thanks to the stunt pulled by Homeland Security and the Secret Society women to suppress them.

Why did W say all this? To establish a certain “conspiracy” in order for the Invisible Hand and BOL to reverse later on?²⁶ W continues:

I think the very fact that you have not been committed despite the efforts of [KRN] should be a source of comfort. But don’t become too comfortable – that is usually when the ground fall out from beneath your feet.

Again, nonsense at the time but a good advice when we shall come to revise this paragraph on 03.09.2022.²⁷ W continues:

Perhaps you should add to your site a more accessible summary of your ideas. Like many philosophers, sometimes you have unconventional definitions of terms which are important to the understanding of your arguments. David Hume wrote his magnum opus only to have it rejected by most. He rewrote it, and it was well received. Now scholars look at his first version and understand it in light of the second version. John Rawls did the same; Justice as Fairness is an accessible version of A Theory of Justice. Honestly, most academics do not understand A Theory of Justice, they think and teach the veil of ignorance which is not his argument, but a simple illustration.

In the original version, we have such interpretations at this point: “Is W giving out hint that the Invisible Hand has finally persuaded the Republicans to make use of the ‘KRN Affair’, all because of the ‘Suffering Woman’ document which the suspect has uploaded on Friday night? No.” Indeed not – but something like this will happen later on, more than 6 years later. We then continue: “It’s more likely that W is trying to hint at something else, i.e., that the most valuable idea which the Invisible Hand has found in the suspect’s work – the one idea which can save the world – is ‘victimology’, insofar as the suspect means by the term ‘sacralization of the victim’ whereas the term is normally used to refer to a particular academic discipline devoted to the study of the impact of crimes on their victims.”²⁸ We might have actually got it right this time! Then: “It would also seem that W is hinting [at the fact] that the suspect is doomed to lose to the Secret Society women during this round and will only win during the next round, i.e., it’s during the next round that bystanders will [become] convinced of the perniciousness in the women’s persistent desire to be recognized as his ‘victims’.” We might have been correct here too!

26 In the original version, our wrong interpretation runs thusly: “Is W giving out another hint that the debate in the ICJ is fueled by the fact that the Russians have developed similar ideas to the suspect’s?” Unfortunately, while this is totally not the case at the time, something like it might become true when we shall come to revise this paragraph on 03.09.2022: i.e. that the Chinese MSS might have used historical materialism to diagnose America’s decadence through consumerism in the same way in which the suspect will have done it (although the suspect will have arrived at the destination by a different path, via the great German and French sociologists of contemporary time).

27 What the CIA wants the suspect to do – at a time when this advice shall finally become effective – is to resist so that the Secret Society women can be made to believe that it’s because of his resistance that they can’t succeed, rather than because the government has already decided that they shall not succeed.

28 See John P. J. Dussich’s “Victimology: Past, Present, and Future”, at:

Let's, however, think about the suspect's writings for a moment. Indeed, the Invisible Hand, after reading the suspect's "Far Right" and "American Suffering Woman", is thinking about how to integrate these into his program with BOL, and so has instructed W to prophesy about the future. But "Far Right" and "American Suffering Woman" are hardly sufficient to convince any established scholars or the Republicans about anything. In order to convince them, the Invisible Hand will have the suspect write out additional essays that are far more technical and comprehensive than his little politically incorrect social commentaries of this time. What W is saying today might actually apply to these later, far more technical and comprehensive essays of the suspect's.

But, at last, we must be clear about this. W's reply is really just the Invisible Hand's same old trick with Homeland Security CO chief. Homeland Security CO chief has instructed W to bullshit the suspect in a way that fits his wrong scenarios so that the suspect can persist in these wrong scenarios and thus look delusional. While W is doing that, however, he's also following the Invisible Hand's clandestine instruction to prophesy about the future which has thus completely escaped Homeland Security CO chief's notice.

Now, back to the volunteers. 7:59 AM, it's the Studio City volunteer again, last seen on 6 December:

Plagiarism. This volunteer will come repeatedly in the coming days.

12:43 AM, the suspect replies to Beour3rd's last comment.

It's not unhealthy. I'm just required to be paranoid and afraid that people are going after me when they are not, in order to confirm the women's claim that I suffer [from] schizophrenic paranoia believing that they are going after me when they are not. My job is to make sure everybody thinks me insane and nobody believes anything I say.

Again, I'll need money to go away. But thanks for responding to me, though.

What an excellent reply! The suspect has finally said something ingenious! The CIA will surely use this as evidence to support the claim they have begun developing, that the suspect is conspiring with Homeland Security by purposely fitting into the Secret Society women's false claims about him. (More on this later.) Then, 12:45 AM, the suspect gets nervous again and writes this email to W:

W, there are two possibilities: (1) it's possible that there is an operation behind your borrowing money from me. It could be this: the women have already talked to the DA, or are going to talk to the DA, so that something is going to happen to me if I transfer the money to you on Monday. Maybe the DA has already agreed that my online postings have constituted violation of my bonds. If I transfer the money to you tomorrow, then I might be arrested and sent to jail by Tuesday. Then, the group of women will provide my bank account and routing number to the DA so that Social Security can be notified that I have been arrested and stop depositing money into my account. In this way, since there is zero dollar left in my bank account, my storage unit's rent will not be paid by New Year, so that all my stuff will be gone by March. Then, by the time I finish mental evaluation in jail and come to court, I will have no more things left. All the reconstructions and logs will be gone too. This does seem like an operation which the women would want, helped by Homeland Security.

(2) I'm just being paranoid, as required. Lately there seems to be a requirement that I be paranoid every night before sleep about being arrested, etc. It appears that I'm just required to produce evidences showing me to be extremely paranoid and crazy. And so there is probably no trick in your needing to borrow money from me. I'm just required to be paranoid and afraid that a group of women are going after me when they are not, in order to confirm their claim that I suffer [from] schizophrenic paranoia believing that they are going after me when they are not. The evidence can then be used in some court battle between Homeland Security and foreign governments or broadcast to people to discredit me (especially in regard to my claim about their filing false reports about me last year).

But, since (1) is possible, I shouldn't have provided you with my bank account number, etc., and I'm not sure about clearing up my bank account to give you the money until I can get assurance that (1) is absolutely not going to happen. Can you think of a way to assure me of that?

In fact, unless I can get such assurance, I shouldn't even be talking to you, since there is always the possibility that you are required to help the women to go after me.

Let's sum up. Homeland Security CO chief has finally obtained evidence of the suspect's receiving payments from the Russians (evidence against the Russians) plus that of the suspect's delusional mind (evidence which he can share with the Russians). As for the visits: beside those that are here to report the suspect for plagiarism, the only one that is significant is the Magdeburg volunteer's report, on behalf of the Boss' family, on 8:28 AM.

14 December (Monday; the Berlin Plagiarizer)

First, the suspect. He leaves home 11:30 AM. On the bus, he notices that a guy who looks like a Homeland Security agent is reading the Bible. (What's going on here? Is Homeland Security CO chief also trying to produce evidence that the suspect is also conspiring with the CIA? More on this later.) The suspect comes to Bail Hotline first. Then he is at Wells Fargo, Vermont/ Wilshire. He is now ready to proceed with the money transfer:

1:25 PM, he first emails W saying he retracts his worries from last night.

1:30 PM, W replies. The suspect is then walking to the nearest Bank of America.

2:10 PM, the suspect leaves a message with W: the transfer of funds is completed at Bank of America.

2:25 PM, W calls to thank the suspect. Note that the suspect has however come up with a wrong, but not entirely wrong, theory: "Homeland Security is trying to produce evidence showing me conspiring with the Russians by receiving money from them. This, because, while Homeland Security is trying to prove that I'm insane, the Russians have evidences proving otherwise. Homeland Security is trying to suppress the Russians' evidences on ground of conspiracy." Again, we have marked in red what the suspect does get right.²⁹

Meanwhile, after being done with the money business, the suspect comes back to Starbucks, Vermont. He calls the strange number, but there is no answering. Then, Chrysalis, around 5 PM.

29 The recording for today: "IMPtransfrWesstrbkchrysalis_12_14_15_1227PM.MP3": the suspect has just arrived in Union Station. 16:30, he's checking in at Bail Hotline. 43:00, he's at Vermont/ Wilshire. Then, in Wells Fargo to ask how to transfer money. 48:00, he leaves and comes inside Starbucks. As noted, he'll message W. (Reviewed until 1:00:00.) 1:57:45, W calls. He has seen the money and will get it tomorrow. And the 60 dollars? The suspect: (a) Homeland Security wants evidence that he receives money from the Russians; (b) the Russians have evidence that he's not insane; and (c) there is no more reason to imprison him. (Again, (a) is correct but (b) is the opposite of reality.) 2:00:45, siren. The unfeasibility of wire-transfer, and a long discussion about how W can pay the money back. 2:03:00, they hang up. (Reviewed until 2:10:00.)

Dinner. Then he falls asleep during men's group. Then, 7 PM, he's going to Starbucks, Westwood. Even though he doesn't quite believe that he would be arrested, for safety's sake he shall... Thus, while in Starbucks, he continues to work on "Far right", and then uploads it to his Gmail account for backup. 2 AM, he goes to sleep in Westwood Village.

Now the Secret Society women's operation on the suspect's website for today. 4:11 AM,

2:18 AM,

31 Complete bullshit – another typical fake TI: “Hello. In my particular case I am being stalked electronically. The stalkers use methods of intimidation and threats. They demean me in every way possible. They threaten my family and myself. When I am not with my kids they say horrible things such as they have killed my kids and my kids have been in a terrible accident. They go under the pretense of promoting for a cause and use it against me. Their harassment is on-going. They seem to know anytime I am using my phone, text and email. They call me discussing names. They have dug into my belongings and contacted people from my life. It seems they are trying to isolate me from the world. There seems to be no limit to what they won’t do.”

Plagiarism. It seems that these two volunteers are working in tandem with the Berlin Plagiarizer (on proving that the suspect does plagiarize).

The “Berlin plagiarizer” is on the suspect’s website for about 50 minutes. He is here to copy the entire “Thermodynamic Interpretation of History” except for the following chapters: (0) Summary-B. (1) The Material Meaning of History. (3) The Truth of Nation-State. (4A) The Liberation of Women. (4B) The Problem of Cultural Feminism. (5A) The Origin of Democracy of Totalitarianism (A). (5B) The Origin of Totalitarianism (B). (7A) The Elementary Structures of Kinship (A). (7B) The Elementary Structures of Kinship (B). (8A) The Origin of Classical Patriarchy (A). (8B) The Origin of Classical Patriarchy (B). (8C) The Origin of Classical Patriarchy (C). (9.2 A) The Progressive Bildung (A). (10.2 A) Foucault and Feminism. (10.2 C) The Origin of Good and Evil in the Human Experience of Thermodynamics. (11A) A Genealogy of Feminism (A). (11B) The Origin of Liberal Feminism in the Differentiation of Subjectivity. (11C) Cultural Feminism’s Transition to Victim Feminism. (11D) On Mary Daly. (12) The Problem of Feminist “Liberation”. And (13) The Feminist Ethic and the Spirit of Consumerism in the Case of Betty Friedan.

Thus, we have today: (a) the 8:04 AM Sterling volunteer to report on the suspect’s delusions on PP; (b) a volunteer’s check, on 12:22 PM, on an old message on Skype in which the blog posts about Khalezov are linked to; and (c) the endless stream of false reports about the suspect’s plagiarism – and finally (d) the Berlin Plagiarizer around 3 AM. What exactly is going on?

The problem seems to be that the suspect has produced some very bad evidence for Homeland Security CO chief around 2:30 PM. If he knows which evidence he's supposed to produce in order to help Homeland Security frame Russia, then he's either not insane (as the CIA would claim) or not conspiring with Russia (as the SVR would claim). Faced with the fact that their masterpiece profile of the suspect is being invalidated again – the CIA would of course point out to the special Homeland Security department that this conversation is proof that this guy is not insane – the Secret Society women have to again scramble to save it by falsely reporting the suspect for plagiarism (since, if at least one characteristic on the Homeland Security warning is correct, then that warning should be retained in the system). Since the suspect has just mentioned the Berlin Plagiarizer yesterday, they might as well call him up to ask him to forge evidence of the suspect's plagiarism. And so he copies all these chapters and then makes sure to delete the references therein before turning them in to the special Homeland Security department and the relevant European authority. However, the Secret Society women don't know that they have fallen into a trap: the TMU's informants inside their organization have recorded their plan to forge evidence and then turned the recording over to the special Homeland Security department, etc. Thus, tomorrow morning, the Homeland Security warning about the suspect will be once again rejected from the United States' watchlists and warning systems.

15 December (Tuesday; W)

First, the suspect. He wakes up in Westwood Village, 6 AM. Too cold. He comes to Starbucks. After checking his log, he becomes very concerned about the Berlin Plagiarizer's actions. He begins looking for an Internet forum on which to report him. He has by now realized that both Ekaterina and Homeland Security have wanted him to look crazy. (Wow! He has got it right at last!) He has also thought about the US strategy for dealing with the rise of European far right parties: pursuing three avenues at the same time: (1) maintaining the status quo, (2) getting ready to project an image of itself as a conservative Christian nation, and (3) getting ready to establish a new form of liberalism³² based on a thermodynamic interpretation of history. This has got the suspect excited for a while – he doesn't know he's just developing more “delusions” under Homeland Security's remote control – and he is quite turned on by all the pretty AWFs in Starbucks.

Then the suspect calls Father Bob to tell him that he will come to volunteer on 3:30 PM. Now he leaves Westwood by 1:30 PM. He falls asleep in the bus and passes over the Vermont station. Now he has to go backward. He has called Ms Warren two times today, but, as usual, she has never called back. Then, while going to Urban Ministry on bus 204, the suspect calls up W, and W answers it. Here are the details of the conversation (from 22:00 onward): (1) The suspect didn't go home last night, for he's scared. (2) The suspect has figured out that the Secret Society women have gained access to his phone conversations through Homeland Security, which means that Ekaterina is involved, since only Ekaterina has the kind of authority to command Homeland Security to violate the suspect's privacy in such a blatant manner. Wrong scenario! (Even though the Secret Society women do indeed have access to all his phone conversations.) (3) The suspect gives a summary of his (other half-correct, half-wrong) scenarios so far: Ekaterina's

stalking claim against the suspect in November using the Homeland Security “profile” of him, and thus the conflict between Homeland Security’s profile and the TMU’s profile. (Sort of correct.) Ekaterina also has an interest in confirming Homeland Security’s profile. (Correct, although for the wrong reason.) But Ekaterina has to disprove Homeland Security’s claim that the suspect is conspiring with her. (Correct.) Then the US government has to disprove both claims. (Wrong: it’s the CIA which wants to disprove both.) Ekaterina wants to monopolize the idea of making a bad example of the Secret Society women (or just SDW). (Wrong.) But the US government doesn’t want this (to make American liberals look bad). (Wrong.) As you can see, the suspect is only about 50 percent correct. The suspect: “What should I do?” W: “Can you do anything?” And the suspect affirms that it’s Homeland Security who is the national security threat and Russia’s conspirator – “and yet they blame it on me.” (Again, nonsense.) (4) About the French regional election: the FN didn’t quite lose, since their base has considerably enlarged, and, insofar as the opposition must have played tricks,³³ the FN will definitely come to power in 2017 via an ICJ judgment; then Russia will get rid of the US’ co-victim status so that the US’ only option would be to contain the influence of the FN in Europe. (All bullshit.) Then the suspect might see hope in this: the US will need him, just as the US will need a backup plan, which will be the suspect’s “American response”. The US might also implement as the second backup plan the suspect’s idea of creating a new breed of liberals. “Thus the US should pursue all three avenues at the same time: the status quo; the cultivation, to a certain extent, of the US conservatives’ relationships with the European far rights, and the creation, to a certain extent, of the new liberals.” Then, Russia’s mission to save the world from the poisonous left: “I suppose that’s why Ekaterina is here.” Then, to respond to Russia, the US can put forward the suspect’s theory to replace the main course and even claim it as part of America’s “brand-name”: “What you’re using is actually ours!” (Just as would have happened had the Russians come to Germany to claim to represent Karl Marx (38:00). Again, all bullshit.)³⁴ (5) The suspect talks about the “Berlin Plagiariizer”: “He copies my entire book... it’s his third time... is he trying to plagiarize me or to scare me?... I’m looking for an Internet forum... SDW wants him to do it...” W: to prove plagiarism, one has to rule out “simultaneous development of the same idea” (41:00). The suspect: “... perhaps he did this in order to make me paranoid, since both Ekaterina and Homeland Security want me to fit the profile of this crazy person...” (Again, right.) W: if I were your opponent, I would drop a lot of red herrings...” Then he mentions how his brother, when publishing his ideas, skewed part of his conclusions and left out a few essential variables on purpose, so that, when somebody else copies them, he wouldn’t be able to work out the conclusions. The suspect laments that he couldn’t convince the government to simply rack up the Secret Society women: “I guess it’s because I’m a guy and I love Russia and so I need to go down... this country is so disgusting... all these criminals protected by laws... and the women who are stalking me can legally obtain access to my phone conversations...” (Right!) W seems to suggest that the suspect should not have posted his theory online. (6) W’s colleagues are ignoring each other because of some online posting about affirmative actions. (7) The suspect wishes he can escape to a third country (since Ekaterina’s party isn’t so nice either). The suspect: why does Homeland Security have to exist? This country is like shit in your mouth, you just have to vomit. Criminals are in control of this country. (Right.) (8) The suspect complains about the Berlin Plagiariizer’s waste of his writings again. W complains about how the suspect has put up

33 Note that the suspect also mentions “If the previous ICJ trial is indeed reactivated...”

34 Again, the reader is advised to pay attention to what happens later in order to see if the Invisible Hand is again going to make the suspect’s bullshit become reality later on.

his idea about Rousseau on his website (52:00). (He's most likely instructed by Homeland Security CO chief to so complain.) (9) W's friend Friedman has once published a non-academic book in Vanity Press. (10) The Secret Society women have visited the suspect's website so much that they have single-handedly changed the website's Google ranking status. (This is in fact not the case.) Then the suspect mentions Libbs T. and the German Lady as the only two persons who have ever seriously read his works, and yet the German Lady is only interested in appendixes and images and so on since she's only here to complain. (How she uses the images to complain about the suspect's plagiarism.) And how they have visited his website more often in two years than all people in all 15 years before combined. W: "I've told you about the 'carrier'..." (Bullshit.) Around 4:30 PM, the suspect has finished his conversation with W. (W is going to the gym.)

Again, each of the three parties has obtained their respective evidence from this conversation: when the suspect is wrong about what's going on,³⁵ it's evidence for the Russians and Homeland Security that he is indeed insane; when he is right, it's the CIA's evidence that he's not insane;³⁶ and when he talks about the US response to the FN or European far right parties, it's the Russians' evidence that he's not conspiring with them.³⁷ Ultimately, however, because of the Berlin Plagiariizer's stunt from yesterday, it's the CIA who shall triumph today.

Now, when the suspect comes to Urban Ministry, everybody is leaving. The suspect thus can't volunteer. And so he comes to Starbucks, Vermont/ Prospect. He calms down, and decides that the "Berlin Plagiariizer" is not really plagiarizing for the Secret Society women's sake, since they already have a cache of all his writings. (He's wrong again!) Then the suspect runs into a professor from the east coast who's writing a book on Hannah Arendt's letters. After this, the suspect goes to the Forum. Then home. Then he's got very scared again: he fears that the Secret Society women could get him arrested with another vandalism charge.³⁸

Now the Secret Society women's operation on the suspect's website for today. 4:32 AM, 36 3 times or so.

37 Meanwhile, Homeland Security CO chief has orchestrated (7) in order to obtain more evidence of the suspect's bad character – this time that he even plagiarizes his best friend.

Plagiarism.

Let's summarize. First of all, we must assume that the informants' confidential report about the Berlin Plagiarizer's actions in this morning to the special Homeland Security department has forced the latter to withdraw the Homeland Security warning about the suspect (since ANG and so on can no longer be regarded as "expert witnesses"). Secondly, 4 PM or so, both the CIA and the SVR have obtained evidence, from the suspect's conversation with W, that the suspect doesn't intend to conspire with the European far-right parties to harm the US: at this point, Homeland Security CO chief's case has pretty much disintegrated even though both he and the SVR could still obtain much evidence of the suspect's delusional mind from the same conversation. Third, as for the visits, of course a massive number of false reports about the suspect's plagiarism again. But, beside these, these are noteworthy: (a) the Groveland volunteers' report, on 12:05 PM, about the suspect's harassment of Eva, and (b) the Modesto volunteer's report, on 12:18 PM, about the suspect's violation of his aunt Jennifer's privacy. These two are evidently the Secret Society women's last attempts to save the Homeland Security warning with the special Homeland Security department – until 4 PM, when the CIA is able to obtain even more definitive evidence with which to cause the dismissal of Homeland Security CO chief's case in the international domain.

16 December (Wednesday; W/ the ICJ trial revived/ the German Lady's meetup canceled)

First, the suspect: he wakes up late, almost 11:18 AM. He runs to the bus stop, but misses the bus. He returns home, calls Christine (Worksource) and then Fr. Bob, and then leaves a message with Ms Warren. He then takes the 12:30 PM bus. He stops in Starbucks, Vermont, to open up the log. Then, Urban Ministry. He reads about the "Essenes" in Edersheim's The Life and Time of Jesus the Messiah. Signals. Then he meets with Fr. Bob briefly. Then he comes to Starbucks, Vermont/ Prospect. 6:06 PM, as the suspect accesses his hidden website, a Homeland Security agent (a vulgar Hispanic as usual) comes in to sit nearby. Then, W calls. Homeland Security CO chief has certainly instructed W to call the suspect because he already knows from the control center's simulation that the suspect is about to give out important evidences to enable him to continue fighting. It is because he has already known, from the control center's simulation, what the suspect has wanted to say that he has sent in a surveillance agent at just the right time to conduct surveillance on the suspect while he instructs the suspect's best friend to call him. (Both the intercept of the conversation and the surveillance over the suspect will soon be submitted to the ICJ as evidence suggesting that there is some truth in the Homeland Security warning about the suspect after all – so that he can continue his fight against the Russians and their allies on the one hand and against the CIA on the other.)

Now the details of the conversation are as follows (from 1:40:00 onward): (1) W pretends to want to make sure the money has arrived and to thank the suspect. (2) The suspect: "There is light in the tunnel for me if the US shall choose to do what I usually do." And he repeats the US' possible strategy: pursuing all three avenues at the same time, one of which should be the creation of a new type of liberals based on his thermodynamic interpretation of history. The suspect will then have a limited following even though they shall not be numerous enough as yet to replace the status quo (1:44:45). But this means, the suspect notes, that he will be able to accomplish all his own objectives at the same time: (a) getting out of the vandalism case; (b) getting rid of his adversaries; (c) getting a small following for his theory; and (d) getting laid. W: how? The suspect: since it's about New Feminism, the government will make a small number of females follow him who will then get laid with him. (3) The suspect also says something about Russia's First Daughter – while complaining about how he can't be sure of anything: "If Ekaterina is doing what I think she's doing, then the US will have to respond... and create a new image of itself." (4) The Berlin Plagiarizer again. (5) How the suspect is fitting into KRN's false profile of him solely because of the generality of the profile (when she says the suspect desires AWFs and yet hates them at the same time). (6) The suspect couldn't find a job. W then recounts how he has obtained all his jobs through word of mouth. Then how he has obtained this job at the Assembly. (7) The suspect listens to W's words over and over again looking for hidden clues ("Philip K. Dick"). The TMU's old-fashioned profiling methods. The problem with American bureaucracy: everyone has to figure things out within a few minutes. The TMU detectives have studied this case for more than a year and so figured out everyone thusly.

Why would W, always so busy, call the suspect? His hesitation in the beginning of the conversation is a sign that he has been instructed to call and, using "Thank you" as a pretext, to wait for the suspect to say the things which Homeland Security CO chief knows the suspect has wanted to say. "Three Avenues" (the status quo plus two backup plans) and "I can accomplish all four objectives at the same time". Then: "If EKT is doing what I thinks she is doing, then I'll have a light in the tunnel." These two admissions are what Mr Homeland Security CO chief is waiting for. His new argument: (1) the suspect indeed intends harm against his women victims within a grand terrorist scheme, and (2) he is expressing an intention to conspire with the Russians – despite the fact that he is also devising his program for the United States. (On top of all this, he's quite insane, of course.) As new evidences are found, the ICJ trial shall continue.

Afterwards, the suspect goes to Astro Burger to attend Draw Anything LA Meetup. Grace is not there. The suspect draws another portrait of Marion. He leaves a little past 9 PM. He catches up with bus 282 just in time. When he's at home, past midnight, he suddenly has the desire to sign up for VK to check if his website has been talked about over there. He then discovers, 1:55 AM, that SDW has already signed up for VK back in August 2013. It's presumably Homeland Security CO chief who has programmed the suspect to do this. (You shall see why.) Past 2 AM, MST (blond). Then, the suspect suffers from insomnia again, and he would not be able to fall asleep until 4 AM.

Note that the German Lady has canceled her meetup tonight. Homeland Security CO chief might have been discussing with the women gang the bad news that his warning about the suspect has been rejected by the special Homeland Security department. All the Secret Society women are upset as hell – since that means they have lost their status as "expert witnesses" again – and so everyone is glued to the computer screen tonight to see how W's conversation with the suspect tonight can revive the whole business. For this reason, the German Lady has decided to skip tonight's meetup.

Now the Secret Society women's operation on the suspect's website for today. 4:27 AM, c-73-138-116-105.hsd1.fl.comcast.net, Miami, Florida,*

Another report about the suspect's racism against Mexicans or hate speech about the Secret Society women.⁴⁰ This, in an attempt to persuade the special Homeland Security department that there is indeed some truth in the Homeland Security warning about the suspect.⁴¹

40 In the original version, we have this wrong scenario at this point: "It appears that the US has deceived the Secret Society women into getting one of their Iranian associates to visit the suspect's document on Russia's development of soft-power in order to enable Iran to intercept it. Why is this visit so important? The ICJ has probably issued its judgment last night declaring that the TMU/ CIA's profile of the suspect is correct, that Homeland Security's, and so the Secret Society women's, profile of the suspect does not correspond to reality, that the TMU/ CIA's warning about the Secret Society women as false complainers of terrorism is valid, and that the Russians and the French are therefore exonerated. It appears that, because NULND and the Republicans are currently working on a certain issue about Iran (probably related to their dissatisfaction with Obama's deal with Iran), they have decided to cut in. Since they can no longer convict the Russians [of] conspiring with a terrorist suspect to harm the US, they are going to use the women to get Iran. At least they can get Iran, if not the Russians and the French. Now, two days later, on Friday, Obama would sign a new law stipulating that people who enjoy visa-free travel to the United States may be barred from such privilege if they have visited Iran before. Clearly, either today or tomorrow, Iran will have been convicted in the ICJ of conspiring with terrorist suspects (the Secret Society women) in the US to destabilize the US. This conviction comes despite Iran's lack of such intention: the US has legally used the Secret Society women as patsies to harm its competitor nations. Meanwhile, since the suspect's document is intercepted in a 'terrorist conspiracy', the Russians, even though not convicted, will still be forbidden to implement any ideas similar to those found in the document to reform itself. This of course means that the Secret Society women are doomed, since the United States has decided to honor the TMU/ CIA's conclusions and maintain them as 'terrorist suspects' (false complainers of terrorism). It's unlikely that the US would have said to SDW: 'Visit his writings so that all of them can be banned', for the US would then be conspiring with the Secret Society women to harm Russia and Iran. The women would now be labeled 'terrorists' and 'spies for foreign powers' per an ICJ judgment. But the ICJ judgment would also mean that Homeland Security CO chief is now convicted of spreading false warnings about terrorism. Or perhaps of using the suspect to entrap Russia in order to get its plans banned as 'terrorist plans'. What's worse, the fact that NULND has particularly chosen the suspect's document on Russia's possible development of soft-power to pull this stunt indicates that she is developing good intention toward the suspect. She must have found the suspect's analysis of Russia's failure (the Russians' failure to develop a parental attitude toward minorities, for example) superb and wanted to make the method 'To sell Pepsi by showing that there is poison in Coca-Cola' (which the Russians must have themselves thought of doing) into the women's terrorist conspiracy to harm the United States. In this stunt she has pretty much prevented Russia from ever effectively competing with the United States in the domain of soft-power – since any discrediting of America's soft-power will now be considered 'terrorist attack upon the US'. She must be developing plans, while damning the women, to free up the suspect and make good use of him after preventing the Russians from benefiting from his ideas. (If you read anything about how she takes good care of her husband, a prominent neoconservative thinker, you will know that she's a woman who values talented men, unlike the Secret Society women.) This must have tremendously offended the Homeland Security CO chief and his thugs, who see the suspect as their worst enemy. Homeland Security has therefore decided to fight back. Since they have monopoly over the control center, they know from the computers there that the suspect is about to give out the evidences they need to exonerate themselves." Again, while all this is either complete bullshit – except that the ICJ has indeed this morning declared Homeland Security's warning about the suspect to be false – or the opposite of reality – NULND in fact takes the side of Homeland Security CO chief – we shall take this bullshit or the opposite of reality into account just in case the Invisible Hand would make any part of it into reality later on.

This is obviously a very important visitor, even though we don't know what he's doing here. By this time, Homeland Security CO chief shall have already entered his new evidence into the ICJ: "New evidence found! There might be some truth in my warning after all! Some truth in my claim against Russia after all! The previous ICJ trial should not be reopened, and my claim against Russia should not be dismissed!" Given this, the next step Mr CO chief will take is of Let's summarize. By 7 PM, Homeland Security CO chief is inside the ICJ to enter new evidence that there is some truth in his profile about the suspect and in his claim about the suspect's conspiracy with the Russian side. After which, he directs the Secret Society women to prepare some important reports for the purpose of reopening a case on the suspect with any law enforcement authority using his special warning about the suspect. From 9:50 to 10:20 PM, the women are talking to this special Sacramento person (someone with the California anti-terrorism authority?). 12:12 AM, an Athens volunteer is also summoned to make a special report about the suspect's particular brand of misogynist ideology. As for the rest, it's of course all about plagiarism. Now, because of the special frenzy tonight among the women gang, the German Lady has had to cancel her meetup.

17 December (Thursday)

First, the suspect. He wakes up almost 11:30 AM. He successfully catches the bus for 12 PM. Arriving in downtown, he heads toward the storage facility first. He puts in DVD-499. Then he's on Metro. There is a new announcement about "sexual harassment on Metro". The suspect finds it strange and wonders if it has anything to do with his case. (Not!) While the suspect is walking to the public library, an ugly Hispanic male walks past him wearing earphones and carrying nothing. Homeland Security surveillance agent? The suspect calls him "ugly". This is most likely a Homeland Security trap. From the control center those Homeland Security thugs know that, if they send one of their ugly agents to the suspect, he will call him “ugly”, meaning “Hispanics are ugly”. Homeland Security has just intercepted another evidence showing the suspect to be racist against Hispanics. Thus, another confirmation of their (and the Secret Society women’s) false profile of the suspect.

Then the suspect is in the public library checking his log. He mistakenly believes he has discovered a secret message about Khalezov. (More on this later.) He reads a little. (Letters of de Gaulle, etc.) Almost 5 PM, he leaves, and comes to Starbucks. He writes down the following on his diary:

Since bed time last night, began contemplating this scenario:

EKT came in early November: (1) to monopolize my [...] thermodynamic interpretation of history and “New Feminism” (not my writing on how to improve Russia’s soft-power) under victim confidentiality on the basis of Homeland Security’s false profile of me; (2) to make a bad example of the Secret Society women and broadcast this in Russia in order to obtain a concrete example to illustrate the validity of New Feminism and the thermodynamic interpretation of history.

The TMU’s profile contradicts the DHS’ profile, but the DHS’ is legally more authoritative. The Paris attacks on 13 November have allowed the French and the Russians to obtain my essay on Marine [...]. The DHS, the US, the French, and the Russians all went to court. The US denies the validity of Homeland Security’s profile in order to deny EKT her request to monopolize my theory and to make a bad example of the women. Homeland Security wants to play both ways, affirming the validity of its profile while denying EKT her right to monopolize, etc., by arguing that I’m conspiring with the Russians and the French. EKT affirms the validity of Homeland Security’s profile but denies conspiracy with me. The debate is on whether I fit Homeland Security’s profile [of me].

EKT and Homeland Security are losing. I don’t fit the profile and don’t seem to conspire with EKT.

Past midnight, December 15, the US deceives the Secret Society women into copying my thermodynamic interpretation of history and giving it to EKT to monopolize.

Afternoon, December 15, conversation with [W]. The US establishes that the women are helping EKT to steal my theory.

11:43 AM, December 16, the US deceives the Secret Society women into visiting my document on Russia’s soft-power through a proxy in Iran in order to enable Iran to intercept it. The US further establishes that the women are helping EKT to steal my theory.

6 PM, conversation with [W]. The US now establishes that the women and Homeland Security are conspiring with EKT to help her monopolize my theory and their bad example. The court rules that the US shall now have the right to monopolize my theory and the bad examples.

EKT's team walks out in anger. Homeland Security's profile is legally valid, which allows EKT to monopolize my theory and the bad example. But the US not only tries to disprove this profile, but also deprives Russia of the right to use the theory and advertise the bad examples through a sting operation on the women and by causing me to understand the situation. Since both sides' actions are legal, the Russians will plagiarize me and broadcast the bad examples in defiance of the court's order.

The US will argue that causing me to understand the situation does not constitute "conspiracy" because its citizens have a duty to defend their government. (This episode will be taken backward in time to eliminate the episode of my conspiracy with the CIA to harm France in the previous ICJ trial. Thus the CIA is no longer co-victim with the Russians in my conspiracy with France.)

17 December, the US deceives the women into framing me for conspiring with the Russians (the 5:20 AM visit) and then into making false reports about me (Prison Planet). They must have reported to some Homeland Security [department] saying I do espionage for the Russians. After conspiring with the Russians, they will blame me for doing so. And then make false reports to use the legal system to dispose of me.

The US is also using this episode to erase the previous ICJ trial altogether. Not clear whether this has become a "crime" in another secret ICJ [chamber] where the previous ICJ trial is now reinstalled.

The suspect finishes writing by 5:31 PM. Most of this is complete garbage, Homeland Security CO chief's evidence that the suspect is indeed delusional – although you never know if the Invisible Hand is going to make anything from it come true later on. The suspect does get something correctly, however, and this is marked in red.

Then, the suspect attends Chrysalis' Christmas party. Ariane is there. Around 8 PM, the suspect rides the bus to Westwood. He has decided not to go home tonight because of the Secret Society women's and Homeland Security's (supposed) plan to exterminate him. He forgets to bring his free food with him when getting off the bus. Then, while the suspect is in Starbucks, Westwood, there comes in an eastern European woman. It might be Russia's test, the suspect thinks. In reality, it's Mr Homeland Security CO chief who is trying again to frame the suspect for conspiracy with Russia: with the revival of the ICJ trial, now that the Secret Society women have made their reports to the special Homeland Security department again convincing the latter that there is indeed some truth in the Homeland Security warning about the suspect, Mr CO chief's next step is certainly to obtain more concrete evidence of the suspect's intent to conspire with Russia. Homeland Security CO chief is here wishing that the suspect would talk to the woman believing that she's a Russian agent. However, the suspect has made no move at all.

As noted, when the suspect sees this visit, he wrongly believes someone is trying to leave a secret message for him. (He has forgotten that it is he himself who has written the words "Namely, there is a story behind...") His understanding at the time is encoded in the original version: "Homeland Security has instructed another member of the Secret Society to pretend to leave a message on the suspect's log, hoping that, this time, the suspect will believe that it's the Russians who have messaged him. If so, then conspiracy [can] be established between the Russians and the suspect. However, the suspect will not be so dumb." Homeland Security is indeed trying to establish the suspect's conspiracy with the Russians, but this visit is no secret message at all. In reality, this volunteer is simply trying to verify the Homeland Security claim that the suspect keeps on developing delusions about famous people, here either Khalezov or the Great Boss.

Now let's summarize. Now that the Homeland Security warning has been revived in the ICJ, Homeland Security CO chief quickly instructs the Secret Society women to mobilize their volunteers to report the suspect's website to the special Homeland Security department – to confirm for the latter that the warning in question is indeed all accurate.⁴³ (a) the Hull, Quebec, volunteer's report about the suspect's front page on 5:16 AM; (b) the Saxmundham volunteer's report, on 5:20 AM, about the suspect's delusions about Khalezv and the Great Boss; (c) the Chicago volunteer's report, on 6:46 AM, about the suspect's delusions about his women victims' going after him as seen on Prison Planet Forum; (d) the Vienna volunteer's report, on 1:03 PM, about the suspect's harassment of Eva; (e) the Denver volunteer's second report, on 3:42 PM, about the suspect's delusion about his women victims' going after him as seen on Prison Planet Forum; (f) the Glenside, Pennsylvania, volunteer's report, on 3:49 PM, about the suspect's delusion about his women victims' going after him as seen on Prison Planet Forum; and (g) the New York City volunteer's report, on 5:23 PM, about the suspect's front page. (The rest of the reports are again all about the suspect's supposed plagiarism.)

Meanwhile, as for the suspect: Homeland Security CO chief has got him to write down more wrong scenarios – as soon as he shall post it somewhere in the next few days, it shall be evidence that he's insane. By night fall, Mr CO chief also sends in a Russian woman hoping to obtain evidence to enable him to continue to accuse Russia of conspiracy with the suspect, but the suspect didn't talk to her. As shall be seen, tomorrow Mr Homeland Security CO chief shall obtain his evidence in any case.

18 December (Friday)⁴⁴

First, the suspect. He has stayed in Westwood Village all night, and wakes up on the street corner by 6 AM. He comes to Starbucks, and posts the "Notice" on "Far Right". He then uploads it onto his Gmail account for backup. This is presumably Russia's evidence that the suspect's primary 43 This, in addition to the Sacramento authority from last night.

44 In the original version, today's entry begins with this wrong scenario: "Today Obama will sign a new law, as noted: people who enjoy visa-free travel to the United States may be barred from such privilege if they have visited Iran before. Iran is convicted of conspiring with terrorist suspects in violation of UN Resolution 1373 because of the Secret Society [women's] stunt on Wednesday." Pure bullshit. Presumably the Invisible Hand wouldn't be able to make anything out of this.

concern is with the reform of the United States rather than with conspiring with Russia to harm the United States. By 10 AM, the suspect has also revised his scenario:

EKT came in early November called on by the Secret Society [women]. EKT responded to the women's cry – on the basis of Homeland Security's false profile of me. She has responded probably really because of the previous ICJ trial and the coming election in France.

The TMU's profile contradicts the DHS' profile, and, if the TMU's profile is allowed to reign supreme, the whole problem wouldn't even arise, but the DHS' is legally more authoritative. At first, the US resisted by claiming EKT was not allowed to respond to the Secret Society [women's] invitation because I wanted to use this opportunity to show her my new writing on [Marine]. The Russians however wanted to see what the Americans were hiding. But no. The Paris attacks on 13 November have however changed things: both the French and the Russians were able to obtain my essay on Marine [...]. The US and the Russians went to court. The US: EKT is using this opportunity to read my writings. Conspiracy. The debate is on whether I have conspired with EKT. Homeland Security is in charge of "collecting evidences" from me.

By the end of November, no evidences for conspiracy. EKT began developing new plans because the Russians have concurred with me that they could make bad examples of the Secret Society women and broadcast this in Russia in order to obtain a concrete example to (1) expand their ideological support for the European far right movement and (2) persuade their own liberal women (like Pussy Riots) not to be attracted to the Western feminist culture. To do this, Russia claimed it suspected that the DHS profile was false and that the Secret Society [women] cried false alarm. The United States resisted the Russian plan.

But the US could only do so by affirming the DHS profile [to be] correct. EKT then: Okay, then, I have the right to monopolize this guy's thermodynamic interpretation of history. If so, EKT can found a New Feminism; although, without the bad examples to back it up, she can still establish it entirely as a "Russian brand" without America being able to respond.

I began developing, independently, ideas on how Russia can expand its ideological justification for supporting the European far right. [7 to 9 December], I wrote "The US response". EKT: okay, I shall monopolize this as well. Now you can't respond in any way to the European far right since he has considered all possibilities.

The US changed plans. The US shall deny the DHS' profile [to be] correct and affirm the TMU's profile instead. Evidences are now collected to show that I don't fit the DHS' profile.

Past midnight, December 15, the US deceives the Secret Society women into copying my thermodynamic interpretation of history and giving it to EKT to monopolize.

Afternoon, December 15, conversation with Wes. The US establishes that the women are helping EKT to steal my theory.

11:43 AM, December 16, the US deceives the Secret Society women into visiting my document on Russia's soft-power through a proxy in Iran in order to enable Iran to intercept it. The US further establishes that the women are helping EKT to steal my theory.

6 PM, conversation with Wes. The US now establishes that the women and Homeland Security are conspiring with EKT to help her monopolize my theory and their bad examples. The court rules that the US shall now have the right to monopolize my theory and the bad examples.

The Russian soft-power document is especially damaging to Russia, since Russia is now forbidden by court order to implement my ideas to reform their own liberals. Unfair, since Russia can come up with similar ideas on its own; it has merely been unable to implement them because their people are so underdeveloped. Unfair, because, although the US can't find me conspiring with EKT, it can easily persuade SDW to conspire with EKT. (She's too stupid: if the US can't use me as a patsy to hurt Russia, it can use SDW.) Unfair, because the US is trying to cause me to understand the situation.

The US will argue that causing me to understand the situation does not constitute "conspiracy" because its citizens have a duty to defend their government. (This episode will be taken backward in time to eliminate the episode of my conspiracy with the CIA to harm France in the previous ICJ trial. Thus the CIA is no longer co-victim with the Russians in my conspiracy with France.)

EKT's team walks out in anger. EKT is unlikely to obey court order because it's unfair – it's all Homeland Security's fault, and so the US' fault, in any case – and because reforming her country is more important than obeying court order. She'll implement all my ideas whether the Russians have developed the ideas independently or whether they have learned them from me.

EKT's determination will result in: (1) the US being forced to respond by making a bad example of the Secret Society women – this is where EKT's victory lies; at least she can have a bad example to illustrate her point, although at the cost of looking bad for disobeying court order; (2) the beginning breakup of the international legal system.

The US begins its operation. 17 December, the US deceives the women into framing me for conspiring with the Russians (the 5:20 AM visit) and then into making false reports about me (Prison Planet). They must have reported to some Homeland Security [hotshots] saying I do espionage for the Russians. After conspiring with the Russians, they will blame me for doing so. And then make false reports to use the legal system to dispose of me.

The US might also be using this episode to erase the previous ICJ trial altogether. Not clear whether this has become a “crime” in another secret ICJ [department] where the previous ICJ trial is now reinstalled.⁴⁵

Then, the suspect continues working inside Starbucks. A pregnant AWF is doing interview nearby. Another UCLA student is reading a book by a Dutch author next to him, and the suspect wonders whether that’s a “secret message” from the Invisible Hand. (That Mr Wilders would like his ideas very much.) (Bullshit.) Past 11 AM, he goes to eat, and then naps outside UCLA. Almost 3 PM, the suspect comes back to Starbucks. The pregnant AWF is still doing interviews. The homeless man is keeping his cat inside his luggage. The suspect says something to him, wanting to make sure that the cat is not being tortured. As he checks his visitors’ log, he notices that whatismyipaddress.com is disabled. It no longer provides information on the geographical locations of IP addresses. The suspect is terribly alarmed. He assumes it’s because the Secret Society women have persuaded the detectives to order the website owner to refrain from providing information on IP addresses on the ground that the suspect’s identification of visitors to his website is considered “cyberstalking”. The suspect is terribly enraged: he has so little legal status that, even when people knock on his door, he is considered to be stalking the visitors if he wants to find out who it is that is knocking! Just then, 3:55 PM, the eastern European woman who was here last night comes over to the suspect to ask him a simple question and then immediately leaves. Obviously, Mr Homeland Security CO chief has decided that, if the suspect refuses to conspire with Russia, he will simply stuff the idea down his throat. Mr Homeland Security CO chief will present the surveillance of this simple encounter to the ICJ as “evidence” that the suspect believes that this woman is a Russian agent and intends to conspire with the Russians.

By 5:39 PM, the suspect has at last posted on AVFM. He writes that the Secret Society women have established their 10th stalking claim against him. He’s now experiencing severe anger. He doesn’t yet know that he has fallen into a trap. Namely, there is no law enforcement order to whatismyipaddress.com instructing the website to refrain from supplying information on the geographical locations of IP addresses. Homeland Security CO chief must have known from the control center’s simulation that, if he remotely controls the website to malfunction, the suspect will misinterpret it as an action by law enforcement under the Secret Society women’s request and go into a rage over the blatant unfairness in the American criminal justice system. The suspect is now being mind-controlled to experience a most severe episode of anti-xxxxxxx hatred. He goes on the street, throwing trash around. He calls Angela, and asks to stay with her. Angela agrees to meet him on Normandie and Wilshire. Then, still in Westwood Village, the suspect calls a woman “Fuck you xxxxxxxx”. She ignores him. Past Wilshire, the suspect calls a second woman, “Fuck you xxxxxxxx”. She is slightly startled, but walks away. The suspect is not sure whether she would go report him, since this is obviously a Homeland Security operation (remotely controlling him to shout anti-American slogans and then showing the surveillance to somebody). The suspect eats noodles at 711. Then, he takes the bus to Normandie and Wilshire.⁴⁶ He would stay in the Coffee Bean there until 8:30 PM.⁴⁷ He meets up with Angela around 9 PM. The suspect thus stays in Angela's house tonight. He meets Carlos. He falls asleep, past 10 PM, while watching a lecture by Barbara Rosenkranz. But he could hardly concentrate.

⁴⁵ Again, while most of this scenario is pure bullshit, what is actually correct is marked in red. We must also continue to keep in mind that, even when it is bullshit, the Invisible Hand might make it come true later on in any case, even if only in some vague and nebulous fashion.

As you can imagine, Homeland Security CO has remotely controlled the suspect to shout anti-American slogans tonight also only in order to obtain evidence with which to falsely accuse Russia of conspiring with the suspect: "If he hates America so much, then he would want to help America's enemy harm America." The man has thus obtained two evidences today to continue his case against Russia.

Now the Secret Society women's operation on the suspect's website for today. 5:11 AM, Catonsville Community College, Baltimore, Maryland,*

- 46 In the original version, there is this conclusion at this point: "In the preceding episode Homeland Security has accomplished their objective three-fold: (1) to confirm their false profile of the suspect that he is constantly imagining up persecution by the US system not knowing that it's all his own paranoid imagination and then unjustly blaming America for it. This, you should note, it's actually the most essential characteristic of SDW; Homeland Security is mind-controlling the suspect to acquire the women's bad characteristics, as always; (2) to show the intercept of the suspect's anti-xxxxxxx angry outburst in order to dissuade NULND from her plan to make use of the suspect; (3) to use the suspect's anti-xxxxxxx angry outburst as circumstantial evidence for the claim that he is prone to conspire with America's enemy to harm America. This piece of evidence shall supplement the evidence showing him interacting with the Russian woman supposedly believing her to be a Russian agent." Again, what is correct is marked in red. As for NULND, for now, as noted, she has in fact endorsed Homeland Security's warning about the suspect and lent her support for Homeland Security CO chief's project to use this warning to convict Russia of conspiracy with the suspect. The conclusion thus says the opposite of reality here. But, again, you never know if the Invisible Hand might make the wrong conclusion come true anyway later on.
- 47 The suspect's recording of tonight: "strbkwstwdangryFKUAMangl_12_18_15_405PM.MP3": in Starbucks. The suspect is concerned with the cat of the homeless man. 50:00, the suspect is reading something about multiculturalism in French. 1:00:30, the suspect calls W, but he isn't home. 1:29:30, the suspect leaves a message for W, about the Secret Society women. ("In case I should get arrested tomorrow.") "So bizarre: getting stalked and then getting arrested for stalking." Russian music. 1:56:00, the suspect leaves, and, angry, he kicks things. 2:00:00, he calls Angela. He asks to stay with her tonight. They agree to meet at Wilshire/Normandie. The call ends on 2:07:00. 2:08:00, FYAM. The suspect also kicks things. At one point, he even has to apologize: "Sorry sir, your laws really suck!" (2:15:30) 2:16:40, in a restaurant? 711? He eats outside. 2:32:30, he calls W, but W is not home. Then he walks on. 2:40:30, siren. 2:42:30, on the bus. 3:28:40, off the bus. 3:35:00, in Starbucks? He calls up Angela to inform her that he's at Normandie and Wilshire. 4:03:00, a Hispanic guy with earphones: surveillance? 4:26:20, out. 4:29:00, back inside. 4:53:20, the suspect is connected with Angela one more time. 5:26:00, somebody is speaking Russian near the suspect. Just then, Angela calls. Siren on 5:29:00. 5:32:00, the suspect gets inside Angela's van. Carlos will talk to the suspect. The suspect explains Homeland Security's and the Secret Society women's tactic again. 5:44:00, the suspect and Angela enter the house. 5:49:00, Angela's husband calls. 5:56:00, Angela leaves.

Let's conclude. The operation on the suspect's website today consists of: (a) the Curitiba, Brazil, volunteer's special report on 8:58 AM about the suspect's plagiarism; (b) the Wichita, Kansas, volunteer's special report, on 2:38 PM, about the suspect's front page; and (c) all the other minor false reports about the suspect's plagiarism. These reports are meant to verify that the Homeland Security warning about the suspect is correct. Meanwhile, Mr Homeland Security CO chief has also obtained two evidences demonstrating that the suspect does intend to conspire with Russia: (a) his contact with a "Russian agent"; and (b) his shouting of anti-American slogans.

19 December (Saturday; W)⁴⁹

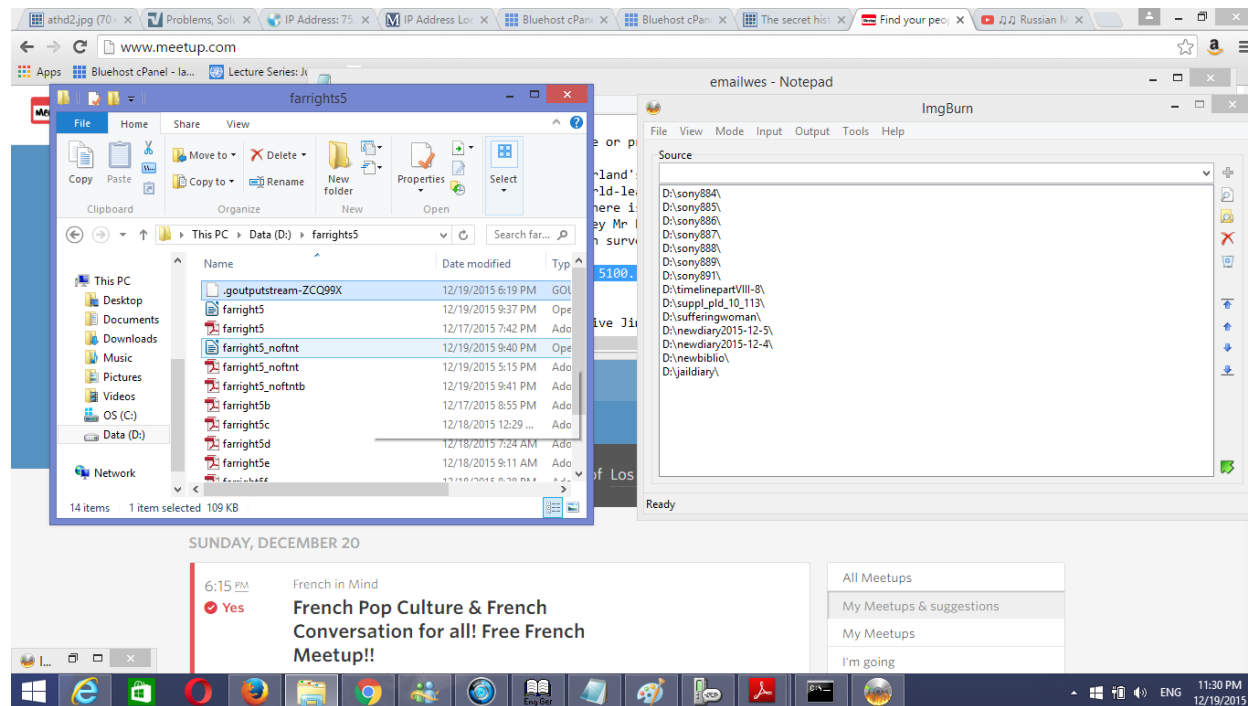

First, a note about the suspect. He wakes up past 11 AM. He leaves Angela's house and rides the bus to Starbucks, Normandie. He is working hard in Starbucks. He checks the log and then looks at Dante's "Inferno". What looks like a Homeland Security surveillance agent is sitting in the distance. (Evidently, Homeland Security is investigating this "foreign agent case" which they have themselves fabricated.) Outside, the security guard says to the suspect: "Why are you acting to be crazy? Are you on crack?" She stares at the suspect angrily. The suspect develops the impression that the security guard has been alerted about him (the "anti-American, misogynist schizophrenic terrorist"), but it's not clear whether his impression is correct. (Maybe the security guard isn't even part of any of the operations at all.) Then, what looks like another Homeland Security surveillance agent comes sitting down next to him. The suspect tells him the seat is reserved. No, he won't leave. The suspect bluffs: "Keep watching me, you are falling into my trap." The Homeland Security agent makes no sound.

49 In the original version, there is this wrong conclusion at the beginning of today's entry: "We should however consider the possibility that Homeland Security would try to make this superb criticism of 'victim feminism' also into part of the suspect's 'terrorist conspiracy' against American women, and so it might have something to do with that. Homeland Security has by now established itself as the best friend of the most radical of American feminists. They now want to obtain an ICJ judgment promoting Radical Feminism and victim feminism: women [will always be] the victims of male aggression, no matter what they do and what talents they may or may not have." Although this is not yet the case, it will become the case later on.

The suspect then calls up Angela and leaves a message with W (“He might be arrested soon”). The suspect then decides to go home first to get his things. He arrives home, past 5 PM. His new passport has arrived. MST (Japanese, Teen Beth). Did Homeland Security also claim he is a pxxxxxxx? The suspect then posts his “Far Right: Preliminary Version” on his website. He has finally finished the main text of the essay. The text is basically the same as the final version you see today but minus the footnotes. The suspect however notices that the PDF printout of the essay is damaged (“goutputstream”). He assumes it’s Homeland Security: to damage the file in order to suppress it as evidence in the ICJ or to frame him for conspiracy with the Russians. (He’s probably not too far from the truth.) He leaves home, 6:30 PM. There are two Hispanics by the bus stop. The suspect’s thoughts about all the injustice he has suffered have enabled Homeland Security CO chief to program him to go into a rage all of a sudden. He calls one of the Hispanic males as he walks away, “Fuck you Mxxxxxx.” The other Hispanic male then walks away too. It appears that the suspect has fallen into another trap by Homeland Security CO chief. Homeland Security CO chief has sent in one of his ugly Hispanic males on skateboard to the bus stop to serve as “bait”, and has already foreseen on his computer how the suspect would react. The purpose of this operation is evidently to produce evidence confirming ANG’s assertion that the suspect is racist against Mexicans – so that the man can have evidence in the ICJ that his star witnesses are no fraudsters such as the CIA and the TMU have claimed.⁵⁰

50 In the original version, such is the interpretation: “They then let KRN be the psychic and psychologist. After Homeland Security has communicated to her the control center's simulation as to where the suspect will be and what they are planning to control the suspect to do, she tells the detectives where he will be, and predicts that the suspect will shout anti-Hispanic racist comments. The detectives have the surveillance agent ready at the bus stop (the Hispanic male who has walked away). Then Homeland Security remotely controls the suspect to shout anti-Hispanic racist comment at their bait (the ugly Hispanic male on skateboard). The detectives cannot then fail to be impressed by KRN's psychic ability and expertise in the suspect's psychology, not knowing that the whole thing is staged. (You should never underestimate the evil inherent in KRN's heart. The woman is truly a psychopath.)” It’s not clear how much of this could be correct. Since the authority receiving the reports at the moment seems to be the same special Homeland Security department, there is certainly no detective. But something like this should have happened already, and would happen repeatedly later on.

The strange “.goutputstream”

The suspect then leaves the bus stop too. He eats noodle at the Vietnamese pho shop. Then he's at the bus stop again. On bus 282, he leaves another message with W: “More crazy things to say in case the previous three messages weren't crazy enough.” W calls back two minutes later (from 1:31:00 onward). The details of the conversation are as follows: (1) The suspect confesses he is supposed to be paranoid and develop insane scenarios out of the patterns of visits to his website in order to fit some “profile”: such is the Secret Society women's claim to law enforcement. (Indeed!) He then recounts his latest (wrong) scenario about what is going on: Ekaterina wants to make a bad example of the Secret Society women and broadcast it back in Russia in order to... and the US resists... and says Homeland Security is right... Ekaterina then says “Then I get to monopolize...” Then the US affirms the TMU's profile to be correct... and refuses to recognize Ekaterina as the suspect's victim... and gets the Secret Society women to hand over his writings to Ekaterina... and because the suspect says it, the Russian government cannot... Ekaterina will plagiarize the suspect in any case... many intellectuals in Russia have come up with similar ideas in the domain of international relations... Homeland Security only wants to suppress his writings and accuse him of conspiring with the Russians and the FN... (2) The suspect confesses he has fallen into a Homeland Security trap by being provoked and remotely controlled to shout anti-

American slogans last night. (Right.) Homeland Security is going to show the intercept to somebody high up in the government in order to persuade her to give up the idea of monopolizing the suspect's website. (Wrong.)⁵¹ Does Homeland Security really plan to get him arrested? (Yes, but later.) The suspect then confesses that he is not sure if the scenario he has developed is correct because nobody ever says anything to him. That's itself ground for shouting anti-American slogans. (Right! The reason why Homeland Security forbids anyone to tell anything to the suspect is precisely their realization that this will cause the suspect to guess and guess wrong and therefore look crazy.) (3) Homeland Security is indeed inside the control center to remotely control the suspect to look paranoid and get angry (anti-American, sexist, and racist slogans). W: "What are you, Donald Trump?" (4) The suspect is not sure whether SDW was instructed to post on her Facebook group in the past two days in order to become his "stalking victim" (since the suspect will receive notifications) or whether she did so just in order to scare him. The suspect concludes that, if he should ever get arrested, it would be for vandalism again (not "stalking" nor "conspiracy"). (Vandalism can be called "community terrorism".) (5) The suspect then confesses that people are not quite clear whether he's really insane or whether he's just pretending to be insane in order to cover his ass. (Completely wrong. Nobody has any doubt that he's insane – except for those on the CIA's side.)⁵² ("But pretending to be insane is the same as being insane in any case.") W: "The Twinkie Defense!" (6) Then the suspect: it's not in the United States' interest to make a bad example of the Secret Society women. (Right on the mark!) The suspect however suggests the "diversification of image" as a possible US strategy, but it's not necessary for the US to adopt such strategy. "These women are so protected by the state, from the local level to the middle level to the upper level... Don't know if the fact that I've got my new passport today means that I will have to run away... my only survival lies in whether the government has a need to diversify its image..." (1:49:00). (The suspect doesn't have to run away – the situation is not as bad as he thinks.) (7) The suspect then confesses (from 1:50:30 onward) that Homeland Security is incapable of understanding the TMU's profile of the suspect just as a dog can never understand why a human being does what s/he does. (Right! Neither can the Secret Society women!)⁵³ "It's like trying to explain human life to a dog or quantum mechanics to a cat..." (1:52:00). "The problem is that the brain inside the Homeland Security people's head is a new kind of brain, like a dog's brain.... My brain is different from most people's, most people's brain is too simple, like a dog's brain.... So when they see a traditional human being, they can't figure out whether he's insane or not insane, they try to fit him into either of these two postmodern categories, but he never quite fits either..." The suspect uses the example of "blue", "red", and "purple", which is the same example you will find in one of the footnotes in "Far right". The suspect is basically portraying himself as a genius over and above the rest of the American population who are portrayed as animals. While this has always been the suspect's point of view – and the Invisible Hand would later on prove to many scholars

51 In the original version, our wrong interpretation at this point: "As you have seen, something like this is actually the case. However, NULND, unlike the detectives, does know that the suspect is under remote control. But she would also know that, with the brain-chip technology, it's only possible to remotely control someone to do the things s/he already has the potential to do." Of course NULND knows all this, but Homeland Security CO chief didn't remotely control the suspect to shout anti-American slogans only in order to impress her.

52 By September 2022 when we come to rewrite this chapter, the situation will have become the exact opposite: nobody will actually believe the suspect is insane anymore, not even the Secret Society women, although those on the side of Russia and Homeland Security will continue to pretend to believe he's insane.

53 Needless to say, the suspect has so insulted Homeland Security CO chief that the latter would from now on hate the suspect even more!

around the world that the suspect is right on target here – Homeland Security has of course known, from the control center’s simulation, that the suspect is about to make such a confession. They would have informed KRN about this too. KRN would then analyze the suspect to all her volunteers and the officers in the special Homeland Security department: “This is grandiosity thinking typical of Narcissistic Personality Disorder...” While KRN, who suffers from NPD with its grandiosity thinking, has again projected herself onto the suspect, she would have also greatly impressed the volunteers and the officers with her supposed expertise in human psychology. (8) The suspect complains about how, vandalism being too vague a charge, the Secret Society women can always add more charges, and how he didn’t break the window at the Law Library (1:57:00). “Spraying graffiti is another confusing category of crime...” (9) Staying outside (to avoid arrest) is troublesome because then one can’t masturbate. The suspect would have to bring his jeans in order to be able to masturbate in Angela’s house. He also feels the need to diversify the videos he uses to masturbate (not simply AWFs and Japanese girls). (10) “My original contribution is my old theory. My works in International Relations and so on are not that amazing because the ceiling here is not very high... hence it’s easier for people to come up with similar ideas....” Policy level ideas, that is. (Right.) Studying and working are waste of time because the suspect is always at risk of being exterminated.⁵⁴

The suspect then comes to Vermont/ Wilshire and settles down in Café MAK. He calls Angela again, and Angela tells him to be at the house by 10 PM. But the suspect then decides not to go. He works in Café MAK until almost 3 AM.

And so, just here, Homeland Security CO chief has already obtained evidence in the following manner: (a) the suspect’s “Far Right” essay: but, at this juncture, can this really be anymore evidence of the suspect’s intent to conspire with Russia to harm the US?⁵⁵ (b) That the suspect is racist toward Mexicans; (c) that the suspect suffers from NPD just as KRN has claimed (and, conversely, that Mr CO chief’s star witnesses are indeed ingenious); and (d) all the wrong scenarios are of course evidence of the suspect’s schizophrenia. It’s to obtain (c) and (d) that Homeland Security CO chief has instructed W to call the suspect back.

Now the Secret Society women’s operation on the suspect’s website for today. 4:52 AM, Opera Mini proxy, San Mateo, California, 54 In the original version, our wrong interpretation at this point: “This might be something which NULND has wanted to hear. She might have been startled by the fact that, never having studied European far right politics before, the suspect, within a few weeks, is able to come up with ideas superior to the professional think tank products she has commissioned.” Again, although this is bullshit at this time, the Invisible Hand might make something like this come true later on.

55 You shall see later on how, after the Invisible Hand has declared this essay to be part of Homeland Security CO chief’s terrorist conspiracy against him, he shall adopt many of the ingenious ideas therein for his own purpose.

which case I'm still eligible for arrest for "intentionally slandering the women online motivated by misogynist hatred" and other minor crimes.

When the great and sympathetic people on this forum and elsewhere [should] report me to [the] authority out of grave concern for my mental well-being, this is presumably the new response.

2:31 PM, Youtube is so fixed that it's no longer possible to download the Julianna Karaulova's videos. (Is this really a Homeland Security operation?)

2:33 PM, Flightless Bird posts a reply on AVFM that is highly critical of the suspect:

No one's reporting you dude, and to imply the forum is uncaring is disingenuous. You came here asking for advice and you've had a heap of it, yet you've ignored it all. Perhaps next time tell us exactly what you want us to say so we can copy and paste it.

Everyone is sympathetic to your plight, that much is obvious from the replies, but people's sympathy tends to wear off when you show no willingness to do something to help yourself.

Good luck to you.

Did Homeland Security CO chief instruct him to post this? In order to intercept it into the ICJ as evidence?

How the suspect keeps mistaking the visits to his website due to his schizophrenia?

2:52 PM, Berne also posts a reply critical of the suspect.

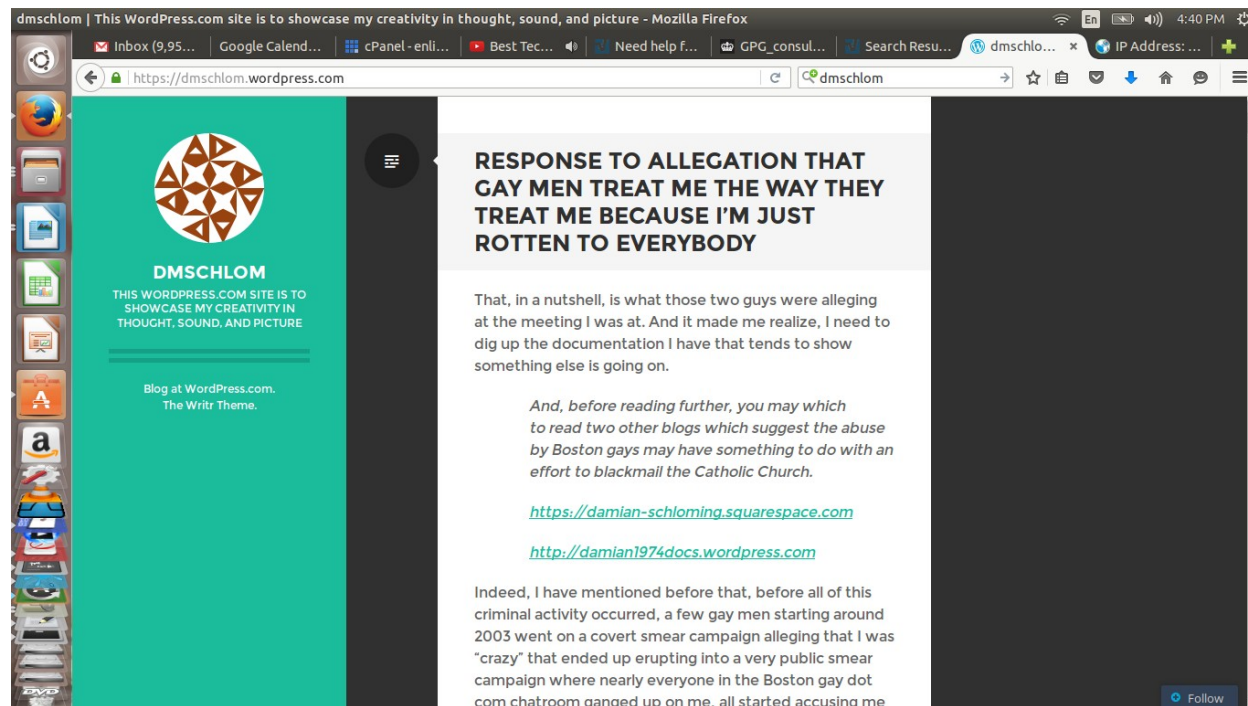

As your posting has progressed what I gather is that you love attention and you love to play the victim.

You by any chance also go by the name of dmschlom?

Now Berne is clearly describing the suspect as if he were describing the Secret Society women, especially KRN. Clearly, both Flightless Bird and Berne are making these replies under Homeland Security CO chief's instruction. KRN, as you know, has been projecting all her bad characteristics onto the suspect – including her tendency to project herself onto her scapegoat – whenever she talks to law enforcement or the volunteers about the suspect. She must have been telling the officers in the special Homeland Security department that, when the suspect describes the Secret Society women, especially their yearning to become his victims, he is just describing himself, especially his own yearning to become the Secret Society women's victim. Whenever KRN analyzes the suspect to any law enforcement or government authorities, she is just describing herself, and so she would also describe the suspect as describing himself when he describes the Secret Society women. In other words, not only has KRN projected onto the suspect her desire to become a victim of male sexual aggression, but also her very projection onto the suspect! Propagande en miroir practiced to the utmost perfection! Those Homeland Security thugs would then want this false portrayal of the suspect (as KRN) to enter into the ICJ as evidence in support of their new case against Russia, while the Secret Society women would want everyone in the law enforcement and Homeland Security industry to believe them on this. Homeland Security CO chief thus helps the Secret Society women out by instructing Berne to falsely accuse the suspect of "wanting to be a victim" so that KRN's false portrayal of the suspect (when she is really just describing herself), which is already part of the evidentiary record in the ICJ, may be further confirmed over there by a third party. Meanwhile, seeing the posting, the officers in the special Homeland Security department and the relevant European authority may also be further convinced of the truthfulness of the lies with which KRN has been feeding them about the suspect. Finally, the suspect of course has nothing to do with this "dmschlom". This "dmschlom" appears to be a frivolous character, as seen on his Wordpress blog and Twitter. Homeland Security CO chief has probably instructed Berne to ask this question in order for more evidence to enter into the ICJ demonstrating that the suspect is indeed a frivolous character habitually impersonating other people on the Internet while seeking attention and wanting to be a victim (i.e. just like KRN and just as KRN has described the suspect). But the evidence is of course only for the ICJ (with faulty surveillance in place). Nobody in the law enforcement or Homeland Security industry would presumably be fooled into believing that the suspect has created a false profile "dmschlom" since they are supposedly monitoring the suspect's Internet connections.

Meanwhile, the suspect is at Café MAK all night. He continues to revise his latest (mostly erroneous) understanding of what is going on in the ICJ. Then, 2:48 AM, he posts on AVFM once again:

The point is this: I'm supposed to suffer [from] paranoid schizophrenia and, thus, constantly get severely paranoid after seeing strange patterns on my visitors' log, and then, out of severe fear, write down crazy things on Internet forums. This, so that I can get myself into troubles soon. But realistically speaking, it's probably just a restraining order, either from the presiding judge in my current vandalism case, or from another judge, [prohibiting] me from ever writing about these women online, or ever having a website, or ever using the Internet. (This last one is improbable, however.) Sorry, I can't be exactly sure what sort of troubles I'm supposed to get myself into, I just know that it has to be something along this line. Presumably, this will be in combination with further vandalism charges when I go to court the next time, which might result in my being imprisoned and sent for mental evaluation, so that the prohibition should come after [my release], perhaps a year later.

It's not clear what the officers at the special Homeland Security department are going to make of the first line of the confession, since this is precisely the Secret Society women's charge. Are the Secret Society women going to say: "He knows he is crazy, he knows he suffers from paranoid schizophrenia and is imagining things out of his own head"?

ANG's naked picture. (The fourth.)

Now let's consider the state of the suspect's wrong scenario as of today (around 12 AM or so):

'Once the US has denied that the Homeland Security profile is correct, Homeland Security shall retaliate against me by composing a new profile saying I'm pretending to be insane. Thereby they can still help the women exterminate me by saying I intentionally slander them online while engaging myself in "community terrorism", motivated by misogynist and anti-xxxxxxx hatred. This operation started on 17 December.

'How then is Homeland Security going to protect the [Secret Society] women?

'12:40 AM, newly revised scenario. (Revised again, 7 AM, 20 December)

'EKT came in early November called on by the Secret Society [women]. EKT responded to the women's cry – on the basis of Homeland Security's false profile of me. She has responded probably really because of the previous ICJ trial and the coming election in France.

'The TMU's profile contradicts the DHS' profile, and, if the TMU's profile is allowed to reign supreme, the whole problem wouldn't even arise, but the DHS' is legally more authoritative. At first, the US resisted by claiming EKT was not allowed to respond to the Secret Society's invitation because I wanted to use this opportunity to show her my new writing on [Marine]. [Such was the CIA's argument.] The Russians however wanted to see what the Americans were hiding. But no. The Paris attacks on 13 November have however changed things: both the French and the Russians were able to obtain my essay on [Marine]. The US and the Russians went to court (the ICJ). The US: EKT is using this opportunity to read my writings. Conspiracy. The debate is on whether I have conspired with EKT. Homeland Security is in charge of "collecting evidences" from me.

'By the end of November, no evidences for conspiracy. EKT began developing new plans because the Russians have concurred with me that they could make bad examples of the Secret Society women and broadcast this in Russia in order to obtain a concrete example to (1) expand their ideological support for the European far right movement and (2) persuade their own liberal women (like Pussy Riots) not to be attracted to Western feminist culture. To do this, Russia claimed it suspected that the DHS profile was false and that the Secret Society cried false alarm. The US resisted the Russian plan. The US did not want its liberal image to be damaged in Russia.

‘But the US could only do so by affirming the DHS profile [to be] correct (that I am the stalker and the women my victims). EKT then: Okay, then, I [shall] have the right to monopolize this guy’s thermodynamic interpretation of history. If so, EKT can found a New Feminism; although, without bad examples to back it up, she can still establish it entirely as “Russian brand” without America being able to respond.

‘I began developing, independently, ideas on how Russia can expand its ideological justification for supporting the European far right. [7 to 9 December], I wrote “US response”. EKT: okay, I shall monopolize this as well. You are not allowed to implement his ideas, neither defend yourself, nor destabilize the far right, nor influence the far right. Now you can’t respond in any way to the European far right [movement] since he has considered all possibilities.

‘The US changed plan. The US shall deny the DHS’ profile [to be] correct and affirm the TMU’s profile instead. Evidences are now collected to show that I don’t fit the DHS’ profile.

‘Past midnight, [15 December], the US deceives the Secret Society women into copying my thermodynamic interpretation of history and giving it to EKT to monopolize.

‘Afternoon, [15 December], conversation with [W]. (“EKT is here, wants to make a bad example of the women.”) The US establishes that I wasn’t conspiring with EKT and that the women were helping EKT to steal my theory.

‘11:43 AM, [16 December], the US deceives the Secret Society women into visiting my document on Russia’s soft-power through a proxy in Iran in order to enable Iran to intercept it. The US now returned EKT’s favor: Okay, these women are helping you to monopolize his writings. Now, by court order, you are not allowed to implement his ideas about how to reform your country.

‘The Russian soft-power document is especially damaging to Russia, since Russia is now forbidden by court order to implement my ideas to reform their own liberals. Unfair, since Russia can come up with similar ideas on its own; it has merely been unable to implement them because their people are so underdeveloped. Unfair, because, although the US can’t find me conspiring with EKT, it can easily persuade SDW to conspire with EKT. Unfair, because the US is trying to cause me to understand the situation. But, then, the US did that in order to demonstrate how I came to comprehension of the situation. Thus, I wasn’t conspiring with anybody.

‘EKT’s team walks out in anger. EKT is unlikely to obey court order because it’s unfair – it’s all Homeland Security’s fault, and so the US’ fault, in any case – and because reforming her country is more important than obeying court order. She’ll implement all my ideas whether the Russians have developed the ideas independently or whether they have learned them from me.

The third ICJ trial over the suspect, I-D.
Lawrence C. Chin
Feb. 2016; rewritten Sept. 2022

‘EKT’s determination will result in: (1) the US being forced to respond by making a bad example of the Secret Society women – this is where EKT’s victory lies; at least she can have a bad example to illustrate her point, although at the cost of looking bad for disobeying court order; (2) the beginning breakup of the international legal system.

‘6 PM, conversation with [W]. It may be that the US wants to erase the previous ICJ trial, or prevent the Russians from getting rid of the “American co-victim” part. The US, per the requirement embedded in the previous ICJ trial, is only allowed to do so if it’s good for the world. The US is thus forced to implement my idea about the diversification of its image, since its liberal image is bad for the world and my New Liberal is good for the world. Homeland Security, not understanding the reason for the US decision, decides to obstruct it. This conversation is their evidence that I have orchestrated the whole thing – pretending to be crazy to deceive them, and to cause EKT to come to the women’s aid – so that they can label me the “terrorist mastermind” in the ICJ record. Is the US planning to bust Homeland Security?

‘Homeland Security has by now broken into the control center and is controlling me to fulfill their plan. Homeland Security is determined to defend their false profile of me and to protect the women from being made into a bad example. They will argue that they are doing good for the US by defending the status quo. Their strategy: (1) controlling me to fit their false profile of me and using faulty surveillance to fraudulently create evidences showing my conformity to that profile; (2) framing me for conspiracy with the Russians, so that the women can be made into “victims” of my conspiracy with EKT. Homeland Security has thus reopened the ICJ debate by 17 December saying: New evidences found, previous judgment that the women have conspired with the Russians should be reconsidered.

‘Homeland Security begins its operation. 17 December, past midnight, Homeland Security controls me to sign up VK and search for SDW’s profile. 5:20 AM, Homeland Security instructs a member of the Secret Society to pretend to be EKT’s messenger and leave a message on my visitors’ log, framing me for conspiracy with EKT. Homeland Security then tells the women that they will help them get me labeled legally their “stalker” and suppress my right to use the Internet, maybe even help them get me arrested, so that, between 6:30 and 7 AM, and between 3:30 and 4 PM, the Secret Society women make false reports to law enforcement (Prison Planet). Homeland Security instructs law enforcement to establish me as cyberstalking SDW (VK). Past 8 PM, and past 11:30 PM, Homeland Security instructs SDW to post on her Facebook group so that I can see them. Cyberstalking established. SDW is euphoric. Homeland Security has so far established me in ICJ records as: espionage for the Russians, cyberstalking women, pretending to be crazy to hurt the US (DHS) and benefit myself. Homeland Security’s purpose is to maintain their false profile of me as an insane, violent, and anti-American cyberstalker while denying anti-American foreign dignitaries [...] the right to file stalking claim against me at the same time, and then to dispose of me so that I won’t ever do things [that might] contradict their false profile of me.

‘18 December, Homeland Security plan’s continues. Yesterday and today, more false reporting to law enforcement about my plagiarizing. Past 11 AM, SDW posts more on her Facebook group. More evidence [of] my cyberstalking. Past 5 PM, severe anti-xxxxxxx hatred. I shouted anti-xxxxxxx profanity on the street. This is evidence in the ICJ (my anti-xxxxxxx hatred is evidence of my conspiracy with the Russians), and maybe even to persuade US officials to give up their plan to make bad examples of the women and create a new liberal.

‘19 December, with [W] past 7 PM. About this revised scenario. Evidence that I have labeled myself “insane” in order to cover myself.

‘Homeland Security is now planning, at worst, for my imprisonment for further vandalism and paranoia schizophrenia (or pretending to be insane), and, at the very least, for my permanent excommunication from the Internet. This is in the real world. Meanwhile, in the ICJ records, it will be established about me: community terrorism, espionage for, and conspiracy with, foreign powers, cyberstalking, and computer-hacking. The profile, established through an ICJ judgment and which Homeland Security will pass around the world, will portray me additionally as a plagiarizer, misogynist, and racist (white supremacist).

‘The totality of Homeland Security’s profile of me, justified through an ICJ judgment and known only to diplomatic services [from] around the world and not to the general public, is thus: misogynist, white supremacist, plagiarizer, computer-hacker, stalker, cyberstalker, anti-American terrorist, spy for enemy states, vandalizer, violent, delusional, extremely clever at labeling himself insane in order to cover his paranoia schizophrenia, sexually perverted, extremely malicious and pathologically deceitful (anti-social). Most importantly, many of his writings are not his works, but given to him by the Russians so that he can pretend to be academic. Meanwhile, those women who have intended to work with Russia to harm the United States will be established, through an ICJ judgment, as innocent victims of the conspiratorial malice between the Russians and the suspect and of the sexist American system. Homeland Security is thus trying to use the ICJ system to justify the opposite of reality as reality.’

Again, most of this is complete bullshit, and we have marked in red what happens to be correct. However, you shall continue to keep in mind the possibility that elements from this wrong scenario might become true later on, i.e. 6 or 7 years later when the previous ICJ trial shall have already been reactivated.

The suspect has today also prepared the following post – but it doesn’t seem that he has actually posted it anywhere, in AVFM or anywhere else. Instead, you have seen him posting a shorter version of it in AVFM on 2:48 AM. In this unposted longer version you will see recycled some of the suspect’s current bullshit which you have already seen above:

‘I have further developed my schizophrenic delusion about Homeland Security’s plan for me using the group of women. (It shouldn’t be the case that I’m merely pretending to be crazy, but that I really do suffer [from] paranoid schizophrenia.) I shall not present here, for obvious reason, the entire scenario I have developed, during my episodes of schizophrenia, about what has happened, from late November until today, between me, the group of women, Homeland Security, law enforcement, the US government, and foreign governments. I shall only present the conclusion:

‘Homeland Security is now planning, at worst, for my imprisonment for further vandalism and paranoia schizophrenia (probably not pretending to be insane), and, at the very least, for my permanent excommunication from the Internet. If I shall soon be banned from using the Internet, the rest of the charges should remain secret from me: community terrorism, espionage for, and conspiracy with, foreign powers, cyberstalking, and computer-hacking. The law enforcement profile of me as a plagiarizer, misogynist, and racist (white supremacist) will also remain hidden from me.

‘The totality of Homeland Security’s profile of me is thus: misogynist, white supremacist, plagiarizer, computer-hacker, anti-American terrorist, spy for enemy states, vandalizer, violent, delusional, extremely clever at labeling himself insane in order to cover his paranoia schizophrenia, sexually perverted, extremely malicious and pathologically deceitful (anti-social).

‘This profile gets me very excited. Unfortunately, according to my paranoia delusion, this Homeland Security profile of me should remain mostly in secret, away from all public records, even away from law enforcement records, circulating only in inter-governmental channels, so that nobody can ever be sure whether I have indeed imagined the whole thing or have speculated correctly. Supposedly, as I write down more of my bizarre delusions here, I shall get into some sort of troubles soon. But realistically speaking, it’s probably just a restraining order, either from the presiding judge in my current vandalism case, or from another judge, [prohibiting] me from ever writing about these women online, or ever having a website, or ever using the Internet. (This last one is [highly] improbable.) Sorry, I can’t be exactly sure what sort of troubles I’m supposed to get myself into, I just know that it has to be something along this line. Presumably, this will be in combination with further vandalism charges when I go to court the next time, which might result in my being imprisoned without bail and sent for mental evaluation, so that the prohibition should come after I shall be released, perhaps a year later.’

Should the suspect have posted this longer version, it would just become Homeland Security CO chief’s additional evidence of his insanity.

To sum up: today is another day where Homeland Security CO chief obtains all the evidence he needs to verify that his profile of the suspect is correct and that his claim about the suspect’s “Russia conspiracy” is true: (a) the Fort Lauderdale volunteer’s special report, on 7:39 AM, about the suspect’s delusion about being mind-controlled as seen on Prison Planet Forum; (b) the same volunteer’s report, on 7:43 AM, about the suspect’s delusion about his women victims’ going after him; (c) 2:52 PM, Homeland Security CO chief obtains evidence that the suspect has been masquerading as this “dmschlom” on the Internet; (d) the suspect’s “Far Right” essay: but, at this juncture, can this really be anymore evidence of the suspect’s intent to conspire with Russia to harm the US?⁵⁷ (e) That the suspect is racist toward Mexicans; (f) that the suspect suffers from NPD just as KRN has claimed (and, conversely, that Mr CO chief’s star witnesses are indeed ingenious); and (g) all the wrong scenarios are of course evidence of the suspect’s schizophrenia; (h) the Helena, Montana, volunteer’s report, on 10 PM, about the suspect’s delusions about his women victims’ going after him as seen on Prison Planet Forum; and finally, (i): countless volunteers have confirmed that the suspect has indeed plagiarized. Note, however, that there is a particular focus today on reporting the suspect for harboring delusions about his women victims' going after him (both the Fort Lauderdale and the Helena volunteer).

57 You shall see later on how, after the Invisible Hand shall have declared this essay to be part of Homeland Security CO chief’s terrorist conspiracy against him, he shall adopt many of the ingenious ideas therein for his own purpose.

20 December (Sunday; domain change/ sleep deprivation)

First, a note about the suspect. After Café MAK has closed (3 AM), the suspect rides the bus to Westwood. Fearing arrest, he would not even stay in Angela's home. When he arrives in Westwood almost 4 AM, he rests in the street corner first. Then he is at Starbucks. 4:45 AM, he discovers that a certain "Elena Brobonea" has added him to her Google Circles. Is Homeland Security CO chief still trying to manufacture evidence showing him having numerous contacts with Russian secret agents? Quite likely!

5 AM, the suspect is on help chat with Bluehost. Due to all the visits to his website from Prison Planet, the suspect thinks that he had better get rid of his old domain and move his entire website to a new domain. He thus purchases a new domain. It's not clear whether he is remotely controlled by Homeland Security to do this: from hindsight, it would seem that he's making a decision that would benefit him later on. Then, by 7 AM, the suspect has finished revising his scenario one more time. Here is the result:

EKT came in early November called on by the Secret Society [women]. EKT responded to the women's cry – on the basis of Homeland Security's false profile of me. She has responded probably really because of the previous ICJ trial and the coming election in France.

The TMU's profile contradicts the DHS' profile, and, if the TMU's profile is allowed to reign supreme, the whole problem wouldn't even arise, but the DHS' is legally more authoritative. At first, the US resisted by claiming EKT was not allowed to respond to the Secret Society [women's] invitation because I wanted to use this opportunity to show her my new writing on [Marine]. The Russians however wanted to see what the Americans were hiding. But no. The Paris attacks on 13 November have however changed things: both the French and the Russians were able to obtain my essay on Marine. The US and the Russians went to court (ICJ). The US: EKT is using this opportunity to read my writings. Conspiracy. The debate is on whether I have conspired with EKT. Homeland Security is in charge of "collecting evidences" from me.

By the end of November, no evidence for conspiracy. EKT began developing new plans because the Russians have concurred with me that they could make bad examples of the Secret Society women and broadcast this in Russia in order to obtain a concrete example to (1) expand their ideological support for the European far right movements and (2) persuade their own liberal women (like Pussy Riots) not to be attracted to Western feminist culture. To do this, Russia claimed it suspected that the DHS profile was false and that the Secret Society [women] cried false alarm. The United States resisted the Russian plan. The United States did not want its liberal image to be damaged in Russia.

But the US could only do so by affirming the DHS profile is correct (that I am the stalker and the women [are] my victims). EKT then: Okay, then, I have the right to monopolize this guy's thermodynamic interpretation of history. If so, EKT can found a New Feminism; although [there will be no] bad examples to back it up, she can still establish it entirely as a "Russian brand" without America being able to respond.

I began developing, independently, ideas on how Russia can expand its ideological justification for supporting the European far right [movements]. [7 to 9 December], I wrote "US response". EKT: okay, I shall monopolize this as well. You are not allowed to implement his ideas, neither defend yourself, nor destabilize the far right, nor influence the far right. Now you can't respond in any way to European far right since he has considered all possibilities.

The US changed plan. The US shall deny the DHS' profile as correct and affirm the TMU's profile instead. Evidences are now collected to show that I don't fit the DHS' profile.

Past midnight, [15 December], the US deceives the Secret Society women into copying my thermodynamic interpretation of history and giving it to EKT to monopolize.

Afternoon, [15 December], conversation with W. ("EKT is here, wants to make a bad example of the [Secret Society] women.") The US establishes that I wasn't conspiring with EKT and that the women were helping EKT to steal my theory.

11:43 AM, [16 December], the US deceives the Secret Society women into visiting my document on Russia's soft-power through a proxy in Iran in order to enable Iran to intercept it. The US now returned EKT's favor: Okay, these women are helping you to monopolize his writings. Now, by court order, you are not allowed to implement his idea about how to reform your country.

The Russian soft-power document is especially damaging to Russia since Russia is now forbidden by court order to implement my ideas to reform their own liberals. Unfair, since Russia can come up with similar ideas on its own; it has merely been unable to implement them because their people are so underdeveloped. Unfair, because, although the US can't find me conspiring with EKT, it can easily persuade SDW to conspire with EKT. Unfair, because the US is trying to cause me to understand the situation. But, then, the US did that in order to demonstrate how I came to a comprehension of the situation. Thus, I wasn't conspiring with anybody.

EKT's team walks out in anger. EKT is unlikely to obey court order because it's unfair – it's all Homeland Security's fault, and so the US fault, in any case – and because reforming her country is more important than obeying court order. She'll implement all my ideas whether the Russians have developed the ideas independently or whether they have learned them from me.

EKT's determination will result in: (1) the US being forced to respond by making a bad example of the Secret Society women – this is where EKT's victory lies; at least she can have a bad example to illustrate her point, although at the cost of looking bad for disobeying court order; (2) the beginning breakup of the international legal system.

6 PM, conversation with W. It may be that the US wants to erase the previous ICJ trial, or prevent the Russians from getting rid of the “American co-victim” part. The US, per the requirement embedded in the previous ICJ trial, is only allowed to do so if it's good for the world. The US is thus forced to implement my idea about the diversification of its image, since its liberal image is bad for the world and my New Liberal is good for the world. Homeland Security, not understanding the reason for the US decision, decides to obstruct it. This conversation is their evidence that I have orchestrated the whole thing – pretending to be crazy to deceive them, and to cause EKT to come to the women's aid – so that they can label me the “terrorist mastermind” in the ICJ record. Is the US planning to bust Homeland Security?

Homeland Security has by now broken into the control center and is controlling me to fulfill their plan. Homeland Security is determined to defend their false profile of me and to protect the [Secret Society] women from being made into a bad example. They will argue that they are doing good for the US by defending the status quo. Their strategy: (1) [remotely] controlling me to fit their false profile of me and using faulty surveillance to fraudulently create evidence showing my conformity to that profile; (2) framing me for conspiracy with the Russians, so that the women can be made into the “victims” of my conspiracy with EKT. Homeland Security has thus reopened the ICJ debate by 17 December saying: New evidences found, the previous judgment that the women have conspired with the Russians should be reconsidered.

Homeland Security begins its operation. 17 December, past midnight, Homeland Security [remotely] controls me to sign up VK and search for SDW's profile. 5:20 AM, Homeland Security instructs a member of the Secret Society to pretend to be EKT's messenger and leave a message on my visitors' log, framing me for conspiracy with EKT. Homeland Security then tells the [Secret Society] women that they will help them get me labeled legally their “stalker” and suppress my right to use the Internet, maybe even help them get me arrested, so that, between 6:30 and 7 AM, and between 3:30 and 4 PM, the Secret Society women make false reports to law enforcement (Prison Planet). Homeland Security instructs law enforcement to establish me as cyberstalking SDW (VK). Past 8 PM, and past 11:30 PM, Homeland Security instructs SDW to post on her Facebook group so that I can see them. Cyberstalking established. SDW is euphoric. Homeland Security has so far established me in the ICJ records as: espionage for the Russians, cyberstalking women, pretending to be crazy to hurt the United States (DHS) and benefit myself. Homeland Security's purpose is to maintain their false profile of me as an insane, violent, and anti-American cyberstalker while denying anti-American foreign dignitaries [...] the right to file stalking claim against me at the same time, and then to dispose of me so that I won't ever do things [that would] contradict their false profile of me.

18 December, Homeland Security plan's continues. Yesterday and today, more false reporting to law enforcement about my [plagiarism]. Past 11 AM, SDW posts more on her Facebook group. More evidence for my cyberstalking. Past 5 PM, severe anti-xxxxxxx hatred. I shouted anti-xxxxxxx profanity on the street. This is evidence in the ICJ (my anti-xxxxxxx hatred is evidence of my conspiracy with the Russians), and maybe even to persuade US officials to give up their plan to make bad examples of the women and create a new liberal.

19 December, with W past 7 PM. About this revised scenario. Evidence that I label myself "insane" in order to cover myself.

Homeland Security is now planning, at worst, for my imprisonment for further vandalism and paranoid schizophrenia (or pretending to be insane), and, at the very least, for my permanent excommunication from the Internet. This is in the real world. Meanwhile, in the ICJ records, it will be established about me: community terrorism, espionage for, and conspiracy with, foreign powers, cyberstalking, and computer-hacking. The profile, established through an ICJ judgment and which Homeland Security will pass around the world, will portray me additionally as a plagiarizer, misogynist, and racist (white supremacist).

The totality of Homeland Security's profile of me, justified through an ICJ judgment and known only to diplomatic services around the world and not to the general public, is thus: misogynist, white supremacist, plagiarizer, computer-hacker, stalker, cyberstalker, anti-American terrorist, spy for enemy states, vandalizer, violent, delusional, extremely clever at labeling himself insane in order to cover his paranoid schizophrenia, sexually perverted, extremely malicious and pathologically deceitful (anti-social). Most importantly, many of his writings are not his works, but given to him by the Russians so that he can pretend to be academic. Meanwhile, those women who have intended to work with Russia to harm the United States will be established, through an ICJ judgment, as innocent victims of the conspiratorial malice between the Russians and the suspect and of the sexist American system. Homeland Security is thus trying to use the ICJ system to justify the opposite of reality as reality.

Again, the suspect doesn't know that most of what he writes here is complete garbage: we have however again marked in red the parts of his speculations that are actually correct. (In a few instances, you must substitute "CIA" for "US" and, in that one particular instance, keep in mind that "... is only allowed to do so if it's good for the world..." applies only to the second, secret trial which the Invisible Hand is conducting with BOL. Overall, however, you must continue to be mindful of the possibility that the Invisible Hand might make parts of the suspect's wrong scenarios here become true later on, with some modifications.)

Now the suspect is in Starbucks all early morning working while listening to Carolin Kebekus, whom he has discovered for the first time. When he is done, past 9 AM or so, he jokes to himself

The third ICJ trial over the suspect, I-D.
Lawrence C. Chin
Feb. 2016; rewritten Sept. 2022

by saying, in German, he is a “Ninja Terrorist out to xxxx xxxxxxxxx.” He jokes it to a stranger as well. This has presumably become Homeland Security CO chief’s evidence: that the suspect is prone to support America’s enemy, which is at least circumstantial evidence for the suspect’s conspiracy with the Russians and the FN. The suspect then rides the bus to church. Because he is carrying a lot of things (having his jeans with him), he wants to wait for the coffee hour. But, suddenly, he’s remotely controlled to suffer severe panicking and severe fear. He becomes convinced that he has to escape. He almost suffers a nervous breakdown. He leaves the church and gets on the bus, shaking and trembling while under surveillance. This is presumably the whole reason why Homeland Security CO chief is currently remotely controlling him to go into severe panicking: he will submit the surveillance showing the suspect shaking and trembling to the ICJ to support his false profile of him as suffering from paranoid schizophrenia. The suspect comes to Starbucks, Normandie, and proceeds with the domain change. He calms down. By 1:40 PM, enlightenment1998.com is pointed to public_html. By 2:11 PM, the front page of the suspect’s original website is gone. His website has at last disappeared.

The suspect would spend the whole afternoon in Starbucks working on his new domain. 5:01 PM, he posts his new scenario on AVFM. He prefaces it with this:

I have spent several days refining the latest delusions I have [lately] developed. However, the following delusion is quite exciting to me, I’m compelled to share it (just in case...), and hopefully it can serve to further discredit me, if there is still any need for that. What’s most important is that the following is probably not even intelligible to everybody, let alone striking anyone as crazy and ridiculous.

The delusions concern what has happened behind the suspect’s back from late November until now. I don’t claim complete confidence in the correctness of the delusion at all. It’s rather tentative. Upon any discovery of new evidences, the scenario will be subjected to revision.

Homeland Security CO chief presumably wants the suspect to post his garbage so that it will at last become evidence of his insanity, not only with the special Homeland Security department and the relevant European authority, but also in the ICJ. More importantly, he remotely controls the suspect to post an anti-American comment at the end so that he can also have another circumstantial evidence that the suspect intends to help Russia harm the US:

I must say, Americans, I believe in Karma. Don’t quite understand the reason for your hatred for humanity, but one day the crap you throw on others will be blown back upon you. Like what happened to Hitler.

Past 6 PM, the suspect talks to W in front of Angela’s house (from 2:16:45 onward). Here are the details: (1) W’s answering machine is still on. (Did Homeland Security CO chief instruct him to record the suspect’s crazy words?) (2) The suspect: “Nervous breakdown this morning... they have no way to get me... but only through the vandalism case and a restraining order... but for the vandalism case... the [Secret Society] women will be going to the judge, who is very sexist...” W: “Homeland Security is not worried about a few broken windows... they are worried about terrorism...”⁵⁸ The suspect: “That’s not what I was talking about. I’m talking about what these women want to do.” W: “They have no power...” The suspect: “They have a lot of power... they have Homeland Security helping them...” W: “Like I said, I don’t think Homeland Security...” (Now it does seem that W is carrying out the normal procedure of an intelligence investigation, i.e., to prevent the target of an investigation from knowing about the investigation by denying...) The suspect continues: “They don’t want me to be online... both the women and Homeland Security... but how are they gonna do it? They are going to focus on the vandalism case...” Again, the suspect’s wrong understanding of his current situation is Homeland Security’s and the Russians’ evidence that he’s insane. (3) W asks about the requirement for the suspect to stay in the country, and the suspect: “According to my reconstruction, I’m not in danger, but...” And he complains about how he can’t escape from this country, not having money. (4) The suspect expresses his fear that he might be plagiarized. But who is going to plagiarize him? The Russians? That’s not something to worry about. But if it’s KRN, then he has to worry about it. (But the suspect believes she would do it only if she is told to do it.)⁵⁹ The suspect also mentions that, because he has got rid of his old website, he’s very vulnerable to plagiarism at the moment. W: “I wouldn’t worry about it... It wouldn’t have any external effect... you wouldn’t end up in jail or lose money...” KRN will presumably analyze the intercept of this conversation for the special Homeland Security department in such wise: “He plagiarizes others but then worries about being plagiarized by others. That’s how he projects himself onto others.” Thus will KRN have projected her own tendency to project herself onto others onto the suspect.⁶⁰ (5) The suspect expresses his awareness that his cousin Evelyn, still involved with the Secret Society women, might have been the one to suggest that everyone say that he has stolen this and that drawing from his family members (since it’s her parents who are in possession of the drawings mentioned) (from 2:25:00 onward). (6) The suspect wonders whether the US is trying to erase the previous ICJ trial or whether it is trying to activate the previous ICJ trial. W: “You worry too much because you have too much free time...” That’s hardly the case. The suspect has to worry about it because his fate hinges on this ICJ trial. Again, the suspect will be surprised to learn that it’s only the CIA who wants to reactivate the previous ICJ trial, but W probably cuts him off because he wants to prevent the suspect from getting close to this right answer – because that will ruin it all. W even emphasizes: you won’t get arrested for forging your own pictures... (7) The suspect: “I don’t know if I need to run... Everybody is telling me to run away but it seems only in order to encourage me to get myself into troubles... The same with what you have said about how my enemy is gonna drop me red herrings... it’s a really bad suggestion...” Right!

Then Angela suddenly cuts in (2:30:00).⁶¹ The suspect thus hangs up with W early. Angela leads the suspect into her house. He burns DVD-500CP while sleeping. It is merely past 7 PM. It would seem that, since almost everything the suspect has said is bullshit (except for some vague comment about the “reactivation of the previous ICJ trial”), Homeland Security CO chief has wanted this conversation to take place in order to intercept more favorable evidence into the ICJ

58 What bullshit! Did Homeland Security CO chief instruct W to say this garbage?

59 Note that the suspect has noted: “All the characteristics of David Chin will have to be found in this group of people, and I just don’t know if it’s EKT or if it’s KRN who’s supposed to carry the characteristic ‘plagiarism’.”

60 While KRN has no intention of plagiarizing the suspect for the moment, she will indeed decide to do so many years later, e.g. in August and September 2022 when we shall be rewriting this chapter.

61 Angela is already in the house, and she says out loud the house number. 2:31:30, siren. The suspect is on the wrong street. Angela shows up on 2:38:00, and the suspect cries. She leads him into the house and then leaves.

to demonstrate (a) that the suspect is indeed insane and (b) that KRN's psychoanalysis of the suspect is indeed correct. (We have marked the evidence in red.) In other words, the same as yesterday. (Mr Homeland Security CO chief might have also wanted law enforcement to obtain the recording of the conversation from W's answering machine.)

1:46 PM, the suspect requests help from Bluehost Technical Support again because the domain change is still not complete.

1:49 PM, the suspect messages Francesca – one of his gang-stalkers:

1:51 PM, m176-71-212-211.cust.tele2.se, Stockholm, Sweden,*

Plagiarism – but, by this time, 2011.com is already gone.

1:52 PM, the Mangalore personnel is back (en):

He is asked to make something like plagiarism out of the suspect's chapter, but it's not there anymore.

Now let's sum up – Homeland Security CO chief's progress today: (a) 4:45 AM, he obtains a second evidence of the suspect's concrete connections with Russian agents; (b) 5 – 6 PM, he obtains, from the suspect's new post on AVFM, another evidence of the suspect's desire to help Russia harm the US coupled with another clearest instance of his insanity; (c) past 6 PM, he obtains, from the suspect's conversation with W, the evidence (ca) that the suspect is indeed insane and (cb) that KRN's psychoanalysis of the suspect is indeed correct. Since he has instructed W to leave the answering machine on while talking, we have to wonder whether, with the help of the special Homeland Security department, a certain law enforcement authority has finally agreed to open a stalking case on the suspect by accepting the Homeland Security warning as valid.⁶³

Something to note about today is this. Both ANG's email address (angeeelica_at_yahoo) and Dr P's (reginapetterson_at_aol), upon a search with "holehe", turn out to be connected to a new account "Dasha" at ok.ru which is created today:

It's not clear what is going on here.

21 December (Monday; sleep deprivation)

First, a note about the suspect. He wakes up 2:30 AM or so in Angela's house. He is unable to sleep further. He begins writing. After 6 AM, he leaves the house. He eats in the Korean restaurant near his former home. Then, Starbucks, Vermont/ Wilshire. The suspect suddenly discovers that the index page of his website at the new domain is removed. He is shocked. Somebody has actually hacked into his website to remove it. He of course suspects it to be the work of the Secret Society women. But why? He's very upset. He changes his password. And 63 At the moment we shall say nothing about the suspect's change of domain today since we aren't sure how exactly Homeland Security CO chief is supposed to benefit from, or be hampered by, it.

there always seem to be surveillance agents nearby. He's terribly concerned, because he believes that SDW might have obtained his password from Homeland Security's surveillance. By 10:25 AM, the suspect has restored the index page. Then he finds an international relations discussion forum (World Affairs Board), and, there, in order to advertise his new domain, posts a short message with links to the two of his essays, "Marine" and the brand new "Far right": "Rumor has it that [a] court ruling has banned certain far right parties in Europe from implementing the ideas contained in these two essays." (Nonsense.) Then he posts on AVFM.

One of the things that really drive you crazy is strange coincidence. Get this. This morning, on the street, I saw this crazy homeless man shouting how society has wronged him by making him crazy and homeless. He vowed revenge, and shouted how he will one day create a "worldwide 'Super Ninja Terrorist Group' to find and capture Americans around the world to dig their eye balls out and market them in Mongolia". It was kind of funny. There were several people on the sidewalks and everybody just ignored him. So I too. I just thought it kind of strange: for I have been thinking all day long yesterday and today about how angry I am for having to be either mentally insane or disposed of "in the system" or both, just because there is that [goddamn] thing dangling in between my legs which this society doesn't approve [of]. But there can't be any pranks here, and the homeless man really does look real. But I thought: maybe the homeless man is really [prophesying], a prophet. For now, it looks like he is just blaming what is his own fault on society, but maybe he really is a great prophet. I mean, this is a joke in today's world, but history books are filled with prophets who look like junks.

In any case, like what I have said, strange coincidence.

Although I'm happy that the great people here are beginning to ignore my delusional rambling, for the following I do need somebody's input. A certain logical paradox has emerged during my delusional episode today, which causes me to be stuck in thinking.

Delusional content: I'm a dutiful citizen working hard (doing my citizen duty) to protect the clandestine op special division of the Department of Homeland Security from suffering harm (i.e. criminal prosecution, punishment for negligence of duty, or political struggle with rival federal agencies), but I can only do so if I hate them and hate this America country. But only if unconsciously. As soon as I become conscious that, by hating DHS and America, I'm benefiting DHS and America, then I will no longer benefit them both by hating them both. But as soon as I am conscious of this consequence as well, then I'm benefiting them both again, and by being conscious of this further consequence, I'm not benefiting them again, ad infinitum. So, do I benefit them or not, at this moment? That's the question.

Basically, my delusional mind is trying to work out this delusional scenario: Homeland Security is benefiting from me because I have (according to them) intended to conspire with others to harm them. I therefore must hate them in order for them to get legally compensated. But if I intend to hate them in order to help them get compensated, then they can't get compensated because then they will be conspiring with me. But if I know this consequence? Ad infinitum.

My delusional mind tells me that, in this delusional episode, the DHS is likely to go to court to appeal to "original intent". What is his "original intent"? Does this guy wish us dead or not? But then I wonder what the judge would think: given how ugly the people inside Homeland Security are, how can any human being not wish them dead? Human beings are not born with the capacity to stuff dog shit into [their] mouth and truly, truly, enjoy the taste.

That's the paradox.

It is clearly Homeland Security which has remotely controlled the suspect to post this: in order to boost the Secret Society women's new case at the new law enforcement authority and their own case at the ICJ. But how? The suspect leaves Starbucks, past 1:30 PM.

The suspect will days later discover that a small text file has been inserted into the folder /gallery/ on his website. The text file reads:

Objective Concept

Objective Concept. OBJECTIVE CONCEPT registered [company], number: 500 790 910, 13/15 rue de Chevreul 94700 Maison Alfort – European Union – State of France

Our fax: 09 59 11 52 26.

Email Box: contact@office-copyright.com.

To leave us a message, please fill out the form below, an e-mail will be sent to us automatically and we will contact you as soon as possible.

The file is dated 9 September 2015, 8:09 AM, like the rest of his files, but he has never seen it there before. This Objective Concept (officecopyright.com) is an intellectual property company in Paris. Did Homeland Security CO chief send somebody in to hack into the suspect's website and insert this file in order to frame him for conspiracy with the FN and the Russians? Perhaps the file is inserted into his website right after the suspect has, last night, expressed fear over being plagiarized: it looks like something which he would want given his fear.⁶⁴

64 Such is the rest of the (most likely completely incorrect) conclusion in the original version: "Given the suspicion of 'conspiracy', both the suspect's website and his copyright records at the Library of Congress would be suppressed as evidence in the ICJ so that these could no longer contradict Homeland Security's false profile of him and jeopardize their case. (Homeland Security might have legally justified their actions with the suspect's admission last night 'Homeland Security doesn't want me to get online and contradict their profile of me'. Homeland Security would argue in the ICJ that the suspect's attempt to contradict their false profile of him should be considered 'terrorist harm' against them – yes, if you lie about a terrorist suspect and the suspect tries to prove you wrong, he is considered to have conducted terrorist attack on you! – so that, per UN Resolution 1373, they are legally entitled to neutralize the suspect by doing something to prevent his Internet activities from entering into the ICJ as evidence to contradict their case.) To this day, the mystery of who has hacked into his website and why and where this text file comes from has never been solved."

Although we can't be sure what's going on with this "Objective Concept", we can be fairly certain that Homeland Security CO chief has indeed sent in a hacker today to go inside the suspect's new domain to, among other things, remove his index page. It would seem that the purpose is for him to be able to intercept evidence into the ICJ suggesting that law enforcement has banned the suspect's website – so that he can fully lock up the previous ICJ trial and proceed to convict Russia with his false profile of the suspect as if the previous episode with Russia had never happened. It's also possible that he had instructed the hacker to insert codes into the suspect's website in order to make it look like the Russian intelligence service SVR had something to do with it.

Now the Secret Society women's operation on the suspect's website for today. 4:43 AM, cpc120802-nrwh12-2-0-cust701.4-4.cable.virginm.net, Norwich, UK,*

This is not Dr P's husband David, is it? (Namely, using his phone this time.)

We have to assume this: now that a new law enforcement authority has accepted the Secret Society women's new stalking claim against the suspect, all the volunteers are supposed to call in to testify that the suspect indeed suffers from grand delusions about his women victims' involvement in some grand government conspiracy against him and that he indeed plagiarizes. In consequence, Dr P also asks her husband to make a special false report about the suspect's plagiarism. But the chapter is not there anymore!

Now let's look at the suspect's activities in more details. After he has left Starbucks, he first comes to Bail Hot Line. He needs to ask questions about how to obtain permissions to leave town. He then goes to the superior court, to check whether there is any TRO filed against him. No. (Again, he's worried about nothing because he doesn't quite understand what's at stake in the current debate about him.) Then he comes to Chrysalis. The suspect checks his website from the computer there (as noted). He also checks his document's hash values, in case it has been swapped. Then, he's at the public library. He posts more on AVFM.⁶⁵ Then he notices that, on 3:28 PM, somebody has posted "Losing my grip" on AVFM. The person's description of himself looks so much like a description of the suspect, with just one difference: the person describes himself as "lazy", while the suspect is never "lazy".⁶⁶

65 This is what he has posted, a follow-up on his "scenario": "Revision/ refining of the latest delusional episode: 'But the US could only do so by affirming the DHS profile [to be] correct (that the suspect is the stalker and the women his victims). PRD then: Okay, then, I [shall] have the right to monopolize this guy's theory. If so, PRD can found N-FEM; although without bad examples to back it up, she can still establish it entirely as a 'Russian brand' without America being able to respond. The suspect began developing, independently, ideas on how Russia can expand its ideological justification for supporting the European FRM. [7 to 9 December], he wrote 'US response to European FRM'. PRD: okay, I shall monopolize this as well. You are not allowed to implement his ideas, neither defend yourself, nor destabilize FRM, nor influence FRM. Now you can't respond in any way to European FRM since he has considered all possibilities. "Refined: 'But the US could only do so by affirming the DHS profile [to be] correct (that the suspect is the stalker and the women his victims). PRD then: Okay, then, I [shall] have the right to monopolize this guy's theory plus the illustrating examples, i.e. the life-stories of these bad women. Under 'victim confidentiality', that is: since PRD is also [a] 'victim', she will have the right to tell her compatriots about this case if she likes, but the US will have to observe her, and [the] other victims', confidentiality and not advertise the matter without their consent. If so, PRD can found N-FEM without America being able to respond. The suspect began developing, independently, ideas on how Russia can expand its ideological justification for supporting the European FRM. [7 to 9 December], he wrote 'US response to European FRM'. PRD: okay, I shall monopolize this as well. You are not allowed to implement his ideas, neither defend yourself, nor destabilize FRM, nor influence FRM. Now you can't respond in any way to European FRM since he has considered all possibilities. Meanwhile, I can justify our ideological support for European FRM with further illustrating examples. So the conclusion of this delusional episode is that the US has now obtained exclusive 'patent' or 'copyright' over the suspect's analysis plus the illustrating examples, i.e. it has somehow, through the application of international laws, 'patented' the life-stories of some of its citizens, like the way a company can patent the genetically mutated species it has designed and created. Any other country which shall broadcast the story without the US' consent will be violating international laws governing intellectual property [rights], in a way. Bizarre delusion, huh? So what happens, then, when Homeland Security comes to rescue the women from this plan? Are they and the women going to make a bad example of the suspect in retaliation? But there is nothing to patent there. Everybody already knows that bad people are always those with that thing in between their leg. The story is hardly worth 'patenting'. Enough, back to reality." Again, you should pay attention to all this bullshit in any case since you never know if any of this might turn into reality later on.

66 At this point, our interpretation in the original version: "It would seem that law enforcement has put this up waiting for the suspect to respond. They want to verify that their profile of the suspect is correct. This is [a] sign that law enforcement is conducting their own investigation of the suspect independent of the women's reports about him, for the profile is quite realistic. It seems also to indicate that law enforcement has ignored the Secret Society women's request for 'victim confidentiality' and is investigating them as well. It seems to indicate that the TMU detectives are training the detectives (namely, the Hermosa Beach/ Pasadena and San Diego detectives plus the Manhattan Beach detective from the previous case already closed per the women's request) on how to properly conduct criminal profiling and investigate the supposed 'victims'. This scenario is indicated by the fact that, although the description seems like an attempt to accurately describe the suspect (rather than falling prey to the women's 'simple stereotyping', i.e., demonizing), there is a certain shallowness to it, which indicates that it is devised by somebody not well-educated and not versed in human psychology, who is therefore probably one of the detectives that are being trained. Unversed in human psychology, the detectives are also inclined to Supposedly, this is an operation. Either Homeland Security CO chief has instructed this “entrepreneur” to post this so that he could use faulty surveillance to intercept it into the ICJ as evidence (the suspect’s “confession” in support of his false warning about him) or, just as we have speculated in the original version, the new detective on the job is being trained by the TMU detectives as to how to properly profile the suspect and debunk the women victims and so instructs this “entrepreneur” to post this as a way to test the suspect. The second possibility is the more likely one: the new detective has started a serious investigation of the suspect and, later tonight, you shall see another police operation in progress.

4:33 PM, the suspect posts on AVFM again.⁶⁷ conclude that the suspect is ‘lazy’ when they see him only interested in doing what interests him (writing and reading) but having little desire to do ‘what he ought to do’ (i.e. get a job). If you read Ortega y Gasset’s La rebellion de las masas, of course, you will recognize that the suspect would actually be considered a ‘nobility’ by the philosopher, someone who is always making strenuous demands on himself in order to transcend his current self and current situation. But the detectives, being uneducated common people (‘Mass Men’), have little comprehension of what ‘transcendence’ means. For them, life is just about ‘making a living’, and not much more. The trainer from the TMU, however, knows better about the suspect, and so has probably instructed the detectives, ‘If you disagree, why don’t you ask him. He’s pretty honest, as you see. If he is really lazy, he’ll admit it.’ Hence the posting.” From our point of view today, this doesn’t seem to be a completely erroneous interpretation – see the above.

67 This is what he has posted: “Now, back to delusion: The logic of the delusion would certainly lead you to think that the Homeland Security plan to rescue the women indeed includes a plan to allow the government to make a bad example of the suspect. Since the suspect is an immigrant from Eurasia, he would be a bad example to prove that not all multiculturalist acceptance of immigrants is [a] good idea; some immigrants are touted as good but in fact bad, like those from a certain part of the Eurasian continent. (This will be used as part of US response to European FRM.) Since the suspect hints at anti-xxxxxxx hatred on a men’s right’s forum, his bad example will also make a bad example of MRM, giving the feminists more ammunition to denounce MRM as not just bad for women, but also bad for society and [the] nation. Then, when you stand back, [you’ll] see that

This is the third volunteer to visit the suspect's links. You can be sure that they are all here to offer their testimonies to the new detective saying that the suspect has plagiarized and rambled racist and misogynist garbage in these essays, and probably thereby demonstrated his intellectual ineptitude and uneducation. The testimonies will then of course be intercepted into the ICJ as evidence in support of Homeland Security CO chief's warning about the suspect.

The third ICJ trial over the suspect, I-D.

Security CO chief's remote programming – that the German Lady might have a plan to plagiarize him. He immediately writes an email to W. It is 8:24 PM:

W, I'm getting very worried. As I reflected on the matter, it's quite clear that the German Lady's crowd has run out of option for exterminating me. Their only solution is to plagiarize me, i.e. to create many different versions of my "International Court story" so that everybody will get quite confused about whether anybody has really written it.

The thing is that the last time I tried to copyright my story was August last year, and the application was rejected, for the first time in my life, most likely because of the German Lady's meddling.

I'm just letting you know this, because I'm gonna have to spend more time copyrighting my work, and more money on this. I have gradually fallen into their trap, by changing the domain name of my website, by distancing [myself from] my other Internet forums, and by hiding my International Court story. It's the German Lady's idea. She will plagiarize my International Court story. I simply don't know why she is so concerned with this. At least she, among all the women in her group, has somewhat [...] a functional brain. Why doesn't she understand that she is the only person who has ever bothered to read the story about her?

Her crowd is obviously getting information from Homeland Security about the current course of the International court trial. Otherwise she will never dare [...] do this. She must have been told that what she is doing is authorized by [an] ICJ judgment. Ha!

As you can see, only the last paragraph is correct; the rest is all wrong speculation. It would appear that Homeland Security CO chief is again remotely controlling the suspect (via the Monkey) to say things which might end up confirming the Secret Society women's false claims about him for law enforcement (and so supporting his case in the ICJ). KRN will certainly analyze the email to the new detective in the same way as she did yesterday: "You see, he's always suffering from paranoid delusion about the women he's obsessed with. He actually believes we will plagiarize him! Furthermore, you see that, after he has plagiarized others, he'd project his own bad characteristics onto others and fear that others might plagiarize him." This analysis will also become Homeland Security CO chief's evidence in the ICJ proving that his star witnesses are indeed experts!

9 PM, the suspect has decided to work on the copyright of all his writings. His fear has finally motivated him to do so. (He has not copyrighted his works for a year and a half due to lack of funds.) But he can't get into his account at the Copyright Office. He's quite startled. He writes another email to W. It's 9:13 PM,

W, this looks like their tactic. They are thinking of filing a restraining order against me on the basis of my postings on Internet forums. Then I will have to deny that this is my posting. At which point, instead of pursuing it, they'll just forget [about] it.

Then, they will have many people write stories similar to mine. But they'll make sure that I don't see these anywhere, that I won't [...] even be aware of it all. Then one day, in case I pull out my story about the German Lady again, everybody will have already seen something like it before. That's how they are going to discredit me!

It looks like an ingenious plan, huh?

Obviously, they[']ve] got professionals helping them.

By "professionals", the suspect means the SVR officer whom Ekaterina has supposedly sent to the Secret Society women to help them. The suspect is all wrong, including this one. Ever since Homeland Security CO chief has turned around to sue Russia instead, the Secret Society women have not had any more contacts with Ekaterina's crew. This email is in fact further evidence of the suspect's delusional mind both for the detective and in the ICJ. Then, just when the suspect finishes his email, a pretty white female, who would turn out to be European, comes in to sit next to the suspect. She is carrying a fashion magazine. Immediately, another black man comes in to sit in front of the suspect. As the suspect marvels at the white female's beauty, she notices it and makes a gesture, "What?" The suspect is quick to avoid embarrassment, pretending that he was staring at her because he thought she was the model on the cover of the fashion magazine which she was carrying. It would appear that he has deceived her, for she retracts her gesture and replies that she isn't the model. She then leaves. The black man sitting in front of the suspect sneers at him and comments on his cleverness, obviously having seen through his trick (pretending to be a retarded person curious about every little thing so as to completely get away with harassing pretty white women). It would however appear that the black man is here to do surveillance for law enforcement (the new detective currently being trained by the TMU detectives) and so is already quite aware that the suspect has had the habit of pretending to be retarded while approaching pretty white females. The suspect then calls Angela again. He has decided to go home instead of going to Angela's house. It's all because he has to use the Internet.

Now, back to the online activities. 12:50 AM, Company for Communications Services A1 Makedonija DOOEL Skopje, Dolno Palciste, North Macedonia,* 68 It's important to notice that this seems to be the first time that this new document – uploaded 10 days ago – is visited. How does SDW even know about its existence? Obviously, it's Homeland Security CO chief who has brought it to her attention.

69 In the original version, our interpretation at this point: "You can easily guess how KRN is going to analyze the document to the detective. On the document, the suspect has listed all the personality characteristics of SDW, a core member of the Secret Society, although without identifying her. KRN would presumably psychoanalyze the suspect to the detective in accordance with the previously established procedure (projecting her own personality disorder onto the suspect, including her love of such projection), saying that the suspect, out of his narcissistic personality, has the habit of projecting himself onto the women he's obsessed with. [She] would say to the detective: 'You will see how he exhibits all these very characteristics which he describes this woman among us as possessing.' Homeland Security will then remotely control the suspect to behave just like SDW while the latter is under law enforcement surveillance so that the detective will definitely believe the Secret Society women's claim that, when the suspect describes any of them, he is just describing himself. This is possible, furthermore, because the detective is forbidden by 'victim confidentiality' from looking at SDW's blog, otherwise he would discover just how accurately the suspect has described her, and not himself. The most important thing here is that, on the document, the suspect has described the woman as 'dangerous' because 'she is like somebody who suffers [from] paranoid schizophrenia' and 'will harm others believing that she is defending herself from harm, not knowing that the harm she believes others are inflicting on her is all but imaginary.' The women would thereby persuade the detective to regard the suspect as 'potentially dangerous' since he 'will harm others, especially the Secret Society women, believing that he is defending himself against harm by them, not knowing that the harm which he believes has been inflicted upon him is all but imaginary, the product of his paranoid imagination.'" Presumably our interpretation back then isn't too far off the mark.

Let's summarize. While the Secret Society women have been euphoric since last night now that they have a new detective to complain to, as soon as they start mobilizing volunteers to report on the suspect's website, they run into the problem that everything is gone because the domain has changed. Homeland Security CO chief has of course informed them about it in the morning, but the women still hope that, when their volunteers search for the images, the same images from the new domain will show up on search results, but this is evidently not the case. It's not until 6:37 PM that the Salt Lake City volunteer has ascertained once and for all: "I see his new domain. It's right here. It must be the case that the search engines have not yet indexed it." But, it's okay, for the women gang can simply turn their attention to the suspect's new links on World Affairs Board. Three or four volunteers have thus made their testimonies certifying that the essays are full of plagiarism and racist and sexist contents. Then, 1:30 AM, SDW gets the LB Admin to come to the suspect's new domain and make a special report about the suspect's harassment of her – with KRN's "expert psychoanalysis" (actually, bullshit) to back it up.

In the original version, we have this conclusion at the very end: "For a long time to come, the Secret Society women will continue to make false reports about the suspect's old domain rather than about the new domain, even though the new domain is identical to the old domain. This is because all of the suspect's old postings on the Prison Planet Forum have links to pages on the old domain, and these postings constitute the very substance of the claim of 'cyber harassment' which the women are making against the suspect. The Secret Society women's goal remains to suppress the suspect's website on ground of criminal harassment of women, and they can only make such claim against the old domain, not against the new domain. They are going to use the old domain as the pretext for suppressing the new domain, and so they must pretend that the old domain still exists." We shall assume that this is indeed a right conclusion.
